JUMPED TO DEATH IN PAWTUCKET CANAL

A Tragic Suicide in Which Man Narrowly Escaped Death Trying to Save Victim

An unknown woman, supposed to be of Greek parentage, committed suicide this forenoon by throwing herself into the Pawtucket canal. Luther Moody street bridge over the river and the Pawtucket street bridge. Luther Hall of 75 Varny street, employed at the Cumiskey garage in Moody street, narrowly escaped death in attempting to save the woman. Mr. Hall in his heroic act caught the drowning woman about the neck and swam a distance of about 100 yards, but finally his strength left him and he was saved from death by several men, who had gathered on the Cheever street side of the canal.

According to people who saw the woman she seemed to be about 30 years of age.

TWO MEN SENT TO PRISON

Youth Who Shot Girl on Highland Street Was Sentenced — Another for Larceny

Victor S. Economou was given a sentence of from three to five years in the state prison yesterday for his assault upon Miss Della Cahill on Highland street a short time ago. He attacked Miss Cahill and attempted to snatch her handbag. When the girl screamed the man fled at her with a revolver and inflicted a wound in her hand.

The sentence was a very light one considering the nature of the crime.

VERDICT FOR $240

The jury in the case of Cawley vs. Ringling Brothers this morning returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the sum of $210. In this suit, Edward Cawley, proprietor of the Old Washington Tavern sued to recover for damages alleged to have resulted to his property from the nailing of signs, posters and other advertising matter upon and within his premises by the agents of the plaintiff in May, 1911, advertising the Ringling Brothers circus.

John W. McEvoy for plaintiff and James J. Corbett for the defense.

Suit Against Street Railway

The case of Addison J. Dewey vs. the Bay State Street Railway Co. was next called and the jury on being impaneled, departed to take a view. The case arises out of an accident, plaintiff seeking to recover for damages resulting from injuries alleged to have been sustained by reason of a car colliding with his team, at the depot stairs in Chelmsford street on June 24 of this year. Mr. Dewey is a local painter.

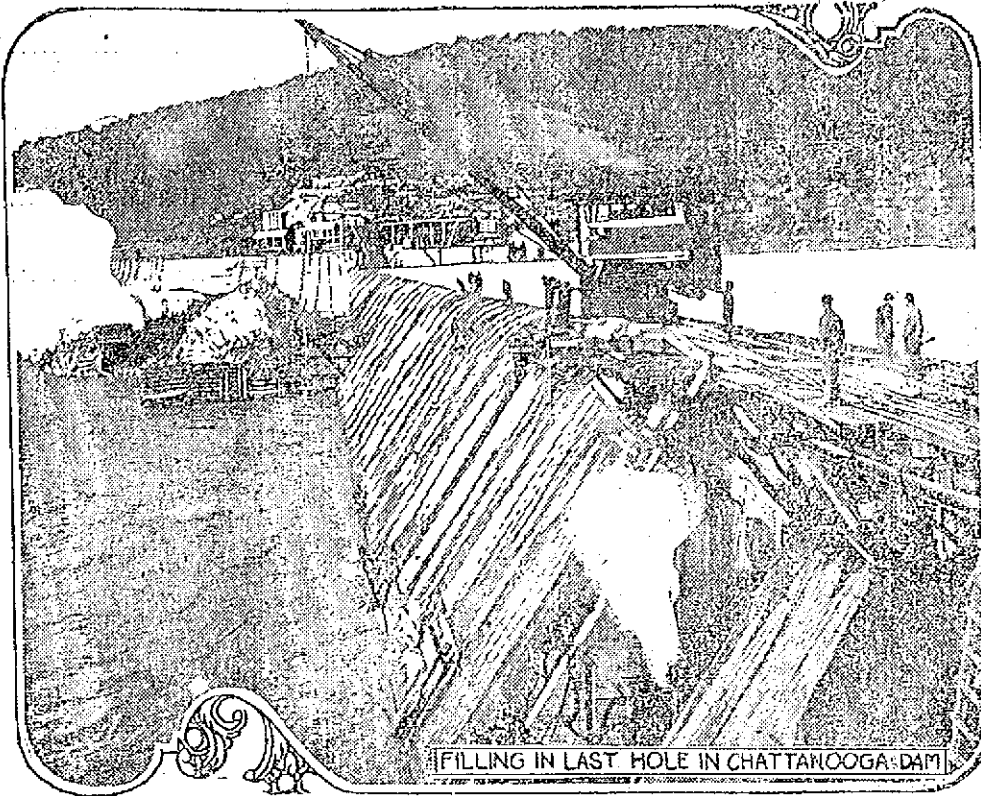

William D. Regan, appears for the plaintiff and Trull & Wier represent the defendant company.

At about 11 o'clock this morning, the jury returned from their view and the trial of the case was begun.

TOX OF OPIUM BURNED

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Nearly a ton of opium was burned in the big furnace today in the government appraisers' stores on State street. The furnace was also fed with numerous "layouts" which the government inspectors have seized during the past months.

$9,000,000 Dam at Chattanooga Was Formally Opened Today

FILLING IN LAST HOLE IN CHATTANOOGA DAM

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 12.—A striking illustration of what is helping to bring the south into her well merited place as leading manufacturing section of the United States is found in the completion of the $9,000,000 lock and dam and power plant at Hale's Bar, on the Tennessee river, near Chattanooga. This great hydro-electric development, started by the late Anthony N. Brady of New York, while it is in the front rank of such projects in the United States, being classed with Niagara and Keokuk, is one of many in the south, completed and in operation or under construction. The injection of the new element of cheap electrical energy into the south's capacity for production is incalculable in its present value or the possibilities for the future. The government and the company have worked jointly in the operations which have been going on for years at Hale's Bar. The national feature is the lock for raising and lowering boats. The private end of the work is the construction of the dam and power house. The United States has spent millions in improving the Tennessee river to the end that deep water navigation be made complete. The effect of the dam at Hale's Bar is to increase the depth of the river for miles, extending well above Chattanooga, doing away with many obstructions to navigation, such as shallow places, rapids, shoals, etc. The former opening of the entire project at Hale's Bar today is an event of national note. That it is recognized as such is shown by the interest manifested by Secretary of War Garrison and others in high places, including the rivers and harbors committee in the house of representatives and its parallel committee in the senate, the commerce committee.

NINE EGG DEALERS HAILED TO COURT

On Charge of Not Labeling Cold Storage Eggs — Some Plead Guilty Others Fight Charge

The state inspectors were very busy people this morning at the police court. No less than nine local provision dealers were in court charged with not complying to the law relative to the marking of cold storage eggs.

Five of the dealers pleaded not guilty to the charge of unlawfully offering for sale eggs which had been in cold storage and which were not properly placarded as such. Omer Bernard, Edmund Loranger, Adolphe Marchand and

CARRANZA REJECTS PRES. WILSON'S OFFER

Says Constitutionalists Desire Only Right to Import Arms—President Wilson Prepares Statement

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 12.—General Carranza, head of the constitutionalists, said today he would not accept mediation in any form by the United States or any other foreign government. He reiterated statements that the constitutionalists desired only the right to import arms and ammunition from the United States.

PRES. WILSON PREPARES FORMAL STATEMENT BUT WITHHOLDS IT FOR PRESENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Wilson prepared a formal statement on the Mexican situation with the purpose of issuing it this afternoon but just before noon Secretary Tamm announced it would be withheld "for the present."

No reason for the change in the president's plan was given at the White House. Just before the issue of the proposed statement was postponed, however, Secretary Bryan received long despatches from William Bayard Hale, who has been conferring with the constitutionalists at Nogales and from Charles O'Shaughnessy at Mexico City. Whether their contents had to do with the sudden change was not disclosed.

The statement was said at the White House to be informative in character and it was understood it might outline the future policy of the United States.

GEN. CARRANZA, REBEL LEADER AWAITS WORD FROM PRES. WILSON

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 12.—With President Wilson in possession today of the answer to the proposition presented yesterday through William Bayard Hale, General Venustiano Carranza, leader of the constitutionalist revolt against Huerta, awaited word from Washington this afternoon. The proposition presented by Hale is understood to have been that the United States would open the border for the constitutionalists to obtain arms if Carranza could guarantee the establishment of order within a reasonable time and the formation of a representative government. Neither Carranza nor Hale would give any intimation regarding the results of the conference yesterday but it is known that Carranza has said no-exception by the

CHARGE DEFRAUD OF CITY

Contractors Arraigned for Conspiracy in Connection With the Erection of New Bedford School

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—William G. Soule, local manager and Frank E. Soule, assistant manager of the Pittsburgh Glass Co., and Herbert L. Wardner, a Boston architect, pleaded not guilty in the Suffolk county criminal court today to an indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the city of New Bedford in connection with the erection of the new classical high school building in that city. District Attorney Polliter stated that he expected two prominent citizens of Pittsburgh who also are included in the indictment would come to Boston without extradition proceedings.

District Attorney Polliter stated after the arraignment that he expected the case would shortly come to trial. The indictment alleged that the original plans of the building called for marble floors in the toilet rooms and that Wardner changed the plans and substituted a certain kind of glass in the toilet rooms. It is further alleged that the Pittsburgh Glass Co. was to furnish the glass for $324 in accordance with an agreement claimed to have been made with Wardner. The district attorney claims, however, to have in his possession a letter which was sent by the Pittsburgh Glass Co. to Wardner, stating that the actual price of the glass would be $625 and that out of the difference Wardner would be paid $300.

District Attorney Polliter said he is in possession of $250 in cash, which, it is claimed, was to have been paid to Wardner and which was in the hands of one of the alleged conspirators for several months.

It is expected that the man who turned the money over to the district attorney will be one of the government witnesses at the trial.

The indictment sets out at considerable length the offenses upon which the government relies to sustain the allegations of fraud, of conspiracy to steal city property in New Bedford and collusion among the parties.

Among the witnesses before the grand jury yesterday were former Mayor William J. Bullock, Joseph L. Gibbs, superintendent of public buildings, Charles H. Sawyer, clerk of committees, Walter Remington, city clerk and W. S. Cook, city treasurer, all of New Bedford.

GIRL BEATS FOOTPAD

MISS BUCKINGHAM OF WARREN, R. I., PUNCHES MAN WHO ATTACKED HER

WARREN, R. I., Nov. 12.—Miss Flora Buckingham, an athletic young woman of this town, successfully defended herself and two girl friends when they were attacked by a man on their way home. Yesterday morning a man who gave his name as Isadore Modrowski and whose battered face gave evidence of his having engaged in a battle encounter, was brought into court and identified by the young women as their assailant. He pleaded not guilty to two charges of assault and was held in $1000 bail for trial Nov. 26.

Miss Buckingham, with her friend, Miss Elizabeth Lincoln, were returning from a concert in Providence Monday night. On their way home they were joined by Miss Abbie Griffin, a maid at the Buckingham house. When they approached the home of Miss Lin-comb, a man grabbed Miss Buckingham from behind and threw her to the sidewalk. She fought so vigorously that he left her to attack Miss Lincoln. Miss Buckingham then came to the rescue of her companion and rained such a storm of blows upon the man's face that he fled with a bleeding nose. After chasing the man for some distance, Miss Buckingham returned and noticed her father, Capt. Erastus M. Buckingham, an oyster grower, who, with several others, made a search. The man was arrested later in the morning by the police.

Miss Lincoln was considerably shaken up and bruised, but the only evidence Miss Buckingham bore of the encounter when she appeared in court yesterday were sprained wrists and bruised knuckles.

RUSH IMMIGRATION WORK

CAMINETTI RECOGNIZES NEED OF HASTENING PORT FACILITIES—ADMIT TWO IMMIGRANTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Plans for rushing work on the immigration station at Boston were announced yesterday by Commissioner of Immigration Caminetti after a long conference with Oscar Wenderoth, supervising architect of the treasury department.

Instead of taking Boston in its regular order on the list in the architect's bureau which would preclude the work for many months, Commissioner Caminetti and Mr. Wenderoth decided to advance it to the very head of the list and to start work as soon as possible.

This is the second decision favorable to Boston announced by the administration in two days, the treasury department yesterday having approved the plans of the chamber of commerce for early work on the appraiser's stores and having promised to commence operations without a moment's unavoidable delay.

The recognition of Boston as one of the greatest and most promising ports of the country was voiced yesterday by Mr. Caminetti as it was Tuesday by Assistant Secretary Newton of the treasury.

After twice being ordered deported because of weak heart, Domenico De Silvio will be allowed to land in Boston and to go to the farm of his daughter at Littleton, Immigration Commissioner Caminetti having issued an order to this effect at the instance of Representative Curley.

An order was also issued to permit the entry of Mrs. Tauba Sugar, also on Mr. Curley's plea, and she now will be able to join her six children, who have been allowed to land.

SAVING OF 100 MILLION

BOSTON FIRE COMMISSION FORESEES THAT DECREASE IN WASTE IF EFFORT IS MADE

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—An annual saving of $100,000,000 in fire losses and the reduction of the cost of the nation's fire departments by three-fourths of its present total was predicted yesterday afternoon by Fire Commissioner Charles H. Cole with the proviso that the campaign be started now and continued vigorously for 10 years.

He spoke before the executive council of the Massachusetts board of trade, gathered to meet at the Vendome, and there repeated his argument for a complete reform of present methods of dealing with the fire problem in city, state and nation.

One of his demands was that authority in the matter should be vested where it could best be exercised, instead of with the police. Mr. Cole also pleaded for a proper organization headed by a fire marshal.

George C. Morton of the Paint and Oil club explained the movement for having one week each spring designated "clean-up and paint-up week." E. H. Bowers was appointed as delegate from the council to attend a meeting of the various organizations interested.

ROADS VS. CANAL

Grange Heads Say Highways More Important Than Panama Canal

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 12.—The labor and money spent on the Panama canal would have been used to better purpose on the highways of this country, Oliver Wilson of Illinois, master of the national grange, told the delegates to the national convention of the Patrons of Husbandry in his annual message yesterday.

"The building of the Panama canal is a national project of which all Americans are proud, yet the same amount of labor and money spent on our highways at home would create benefits greater and probably more important to our own people," he said.

Master Wilson declared that the federal government almost totally ignores the question of transportation between the country home and the railroad, the farm and the business center, except to give advice on road construction.

The National Grange, he said, should consider the employment of prisoners in preparation of road material, and in actual road work, by placing them on their honor, wherever possible.

Mr. Wilson submitted ideas from the view of the farmer regarding rural credits, saying:

"I believe any rural credit system should make it easy and safe for a farmer to borrow money to buy or improve his land or equipment to operate the same.

"Long time credit at the lowest possible interest should be available for the farmer who desires it.

"The so-called rural credit commission that was sent to Europe had but very few representatives of agriculture, consequently we can expect but little, if any, benefit from its report.

"Any credit system to be safe for the people must be either directly controlled or operated by the government.

"Any system under private control, operated as a special privilege, would ultimately prove a detriment to agriculture.

"I am opposed to any rural credit system or other system of finance that secures farmers from other business men. All that we ask for the farmer is equal opportunity with all other business men."

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not need them. If you are one of these unfortunate ones, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear "wind-drops" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Opton; fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Opton tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, catarrh, sore eyes, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or who wear glasses, would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong, magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.

HELD UP U.S. MAIL

Federal Government After N. Y. Auto Drivers on New Charge

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The federal government continued its roundup of union chauffeurs charged with conspiracy to retard the operation of United States mails in connection with the recent strike. W. J. Simpson and T. R. Kennedy were arrested early today in Long Island City. They had nine arrests and more were expected. Seven prisoners were taken yesterday, including Patrick Johnson, president of the union. Investigators for the government said they had learned the strikers had threatened to use dynamite in their efforts to thwart mail transportation by non-union men. The strike was broken by the prompt employment of strikebreakers and those who walked out were not taken back.

BOSTON WOMAN IS HONORED

Miss Alice Grady of Mass. Savings Insurance League

Appointed to Advisory Council of the American
Thrifty Society

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—Miss Alice Grady, financial secretary of the Massachusetts Savings Insurance League, has just been appointed to the advisory council of the American Society for Thrift by S. W. Straus, president of S. W. Straus & Co., bankers, New York and Chicago, who has been in Boston organizing a Massachusetts branch of the society. It is a distinction for Miss Grady, as her fellow councilors include state governors and bankers.

Mr. Straus says America is a prodigal nation, and that thrift is a matter of character. By thrift he does not, however, mean a denial of comfortable living.

Miss Grady started up-state yesterday to secure the co-operation of Massachusetts savings banks with the American Society for Thrift. She said she considers the $2500 man the one who is most extravagant, as he tries to appear like a man of a $5000 income. "Extravagant living deceives no one," she said, "whereas homes can be started on small savings."

Work is under way for a national campaign for thrift from the Chicago headquarters of the society. It promises to enlist the forces of school, church, rostrum and the cooperative organizations of farmers, mechanics and women in a great national effort to arouse the American people to greater individual thrift.

The society is soliciting no funds. Mr. Straus is purely philanthropic in his interest. Individual thrift is his "hobby."

MISS ALICE GRADY

As he said in an interview at the Hotel Touraine:

"The American Society for Thrift plans to promote nationally the individual thrift which is the basis of good citizenship and community prosperity. Daily financed, it has taken up a nation wide inquiry to determine how best and most quickly to change the prodigal spirit of our times to the spirit of thrift."

"The prevailing spirit in the United States once was that of thrift. Today we are a prodigal nation. The maxims of Poor Richard seem forgotten. Thrift means more than saving—it means earning, working, planning, increasing. It is the prosperity of the nation depends. It is high time that more was done to encourage and teach it. We find that today too little is being taught that bears directly upon thrift."

Miss Grady is well known in Lowell through her connection with the Mass. Savings Insurance League.

TAMMANY "BAGMAN"

ASST. DIST. ATT'Y CLARK SAYS
HE HAS SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE
FOR INDICTMENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—George H. McGuire, the Syracuse bonding agent, was still in such a nervous state today as a result of his ordeal on the witness stand on Tuesday that counsel said he would be unable to resume his testimony this afternoon at the John Doe inquiry into charges that Tammany had exacted contributions from contractors doing state work.

McGuire's testimony, the district attorney said, was essential before proceeding further. The hearing was postponed until next week, the exact date not being decided upon.

John Kirkland Clark, an assistant district attorney, reported that he had obtained sufficient evidence to warrant indictment for extortion of one alleged Tammany "bagman."

DEATHS

BROWN—Alden P. Brown, who was formerly a resident of Lowell for about 20 years, died at Waldoboro, Me., and was buried in Auburn, N. H. Mr. Brown was born in Canada, June 14, 1860, and died at Waldoboro, Oct. 30, 1913. The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman M. Brown. His parents moved to Auburn in 1870, and he resided in the town until he grew to manhood. Mr. Brown learned the trade of a machinist in Lowell, and rose to positions of responsibility. He traveled throughout the southern states, having charge of erecting machinery in the cotton mills of the south, and later held the position of overseer in cotton mills at Lawrence, Mass., and Exeter. He had resided for the last two years at his home in Waldoboro, Me., where his death occurred. He is survived by a widow, Ida J. Brown; five brothers, Harrison E. of Canada, Alvin F. of Raymond, William G. of Weare, Frank M. of Windham and Myron F. of Chester; and two sisters, Mrs. Lydia A. Keyes of Manchester and Mrs. Mary A. Reid of Auburn.

LANDRY—Joseph W. Landry, a well known resident of Centerville, died yesterday at the Lowell hospital after a brief illness, aged 15 years. He leaves his parents, Edward and Elizabeth, of Centerville; Mrs. James Melancon and Mrs. Paul Maher of St. Lawrence, O., and the Misses Mary and Lavinia Landry. The body was taken to his home, 6 Osgood avenue.

LAFORTE—Mrs. Domitille LaForte, wife of Joseph LaForte, an esteemed resident of Lowell, died yesterday at her home, 32 Dunnell street, after a long illness, aged 73 years. Besides her husband she leaves three sons, Henry D., Eli C., and Alfred A.; two daughters, Mrs. David of Burlington, Vt., and Mrs. David of Lanesboro, Mass.; and two sisters, Mrs. Rose Platt and Mrs. Mary Platt, both of Fall River, Mass.

FUNERAL NOTICES

Samuel Ganin, who resides at 4 Aiken street, met with an accident while at his work in the cement and Suffolk mill this morning at ten o'clock. He was engaged in running through pieces of cloth in his machine when his thumb was caught and the top of it cut off. The ambulance was summoned and the injured man taken to a local hospital, where the injury was dressed.

GIVES STATE'S EVIDENCE

MAN, WITH OTHERS IS CHARGED WITH CONCEALING ASSETS IN BANKRUPTCY

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—Expressing contrition for his acts, Asad Corey, formerly proprietor of a store at Whitefield, N. H., turned state's evidence this afternoon at the trial of himself and Joseph Charles, Joseph John and Kalil and Michael Ziter, all charged with concealing assets in bankruptcy. Corey stated he expected no reward for his evidence. He said his failure a year ago was not an honest one. At the suggestion of Asad Ziter he said, he shipped some of his goods to Fort Kent, Me., and others to Joseph John at North Adams, Mass. Goods were also sent to Pittsfield, Mass., and Barre, Vt. A fortnight before the failure he sold goods to Joe Charles below cost, he said.

CURRENCY BILL 29 BODIES TOSSED UP

Six Democrats of the Senate Banking Committee Meet

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The six-administration democrats of the senate banking committee met today to continue work on the currency bill they will report to the senate while Senator Hitchcock, the so-called insurgent democrat, met with the five republicans and worked on a dissenting report. The opposing camps separated by mutual agreement and will not meet in joint session again until Saturday.

MEANWHILE, however, they will exchange views informally. The administration senators will report a bill for eight regional banks with practically all the other provisions of the house bill. The republicans and Senator Hitchcock will urge that the number of banks be reduced to four and that the banks be publicly owned and government controlled.

COLDWELL GUILTY

Sealed Verdict Returned in the Case of Strike Leader

WORCESTER, Nov. 13.—A sealed verdict of guilty was returned today in the superior criminal court against Joseph Coldwell, who was one of the strike leaders during the labor troubles at the Draper Co. plant last spring on an indictment charging him with assault on Julius Havant, an employee of the Draper plant on May 7. The government claims that while Coldwell did not personally assault Havant, he incited strikers to attack the man when he was on his way to work. The jury reached its decision last night after considering the evidence for five and a quarter hours and the verdict was received in court today by Judge Tatigan. Sentence will be imposed by Judge Raymond, who heard the evidence.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

Held a Merrimack Valley Conference at Grace Church Today—Many Forcible Sermons

One of the Merrimack valley conferences of the Universalist church was held in the Grace church in this city yesterday, attended by many out of town Universalists and others interested in the conference work as well as the members of the local Universalist churches. The conference opened this morning at 10:30 a. m. with a praise service at which prayer and hymn singing and the usual ritual of the church was observed.

At 11 a sermon was given by Rev. H. B. Maxwell of Somerville who dwelt on the function of the church. Its principal mission, he declared to be threefold: viz. to transform life through the spirit, to educate the people in matters of faith, and to interpret life in terms of spirit. He expressed his firm belief in a great revival in religious observance and church attendance in the near future and pointed out the manifestations of the dawn of a better public attitude. He urged those present to work steadfastly in the interest of the ideal for which the Merrimack valley conferences were instituted.

There was an intermission in the program of the conference at noon, enabling those present to have dinner, which was served in the hall set apart for such occasions. At 1:30 p. m. a business meeting was held which was largely of a routine character. The principal business was the election of officers, and this progressed very smoothly. Rev. C. O. Robbins of Lawrence was selected to be the president of the society for the coming year.

At 1:45 p. m. a sermon on the "Missionary Spirit" was given by Rev. A. Gertrude Earle of Methuen, a brilliant and eloquent pulpit orator, who spoke partly as follows:

In the world of today, the spirit of the church underlies all international relations; many constitutions have been Christianized; we see the ideal spirit of Christ in the homes, the schools, the governments and even the business of the world. Directly or indirectly this has come about through evangelistic work.

There are many different phases of expansion. First of all there is the political phase: Darkest Africa has been discovered and Christianized by Livingston, Stanley and the Christian nations. The islands of the sea have felt the power of the Christianizing spirit. It is evident in Australia which is a model for us in many things, in the Philippines, where the American spirit has worked wonders and even in far away Japan which was shut out from modern civilization 60 years ago, but which now is in the forefront of nations. Even China is awake and there is an industrial, political and intellectual expansion throughout the east quite in keeping with the growth of the west. She needs the aid of the missionary spirit, especially with regard to Japan and China where the people are ready for the principles of Christianity.

Rev. F. A. Wilcox of West Somerville made the last address of the conference at 2:15. His sermon being on "The Regeneration of Universalism." He said: "A striking analogy exists at present between the attitude of President Wilson towards Huerta and his de facto government and the attitude of ministers towards modern religious problems. In both there is a splendid ideal but there is a very real danger of their inability to carry it out. The trouble with the church is that far too many ministers preach fine doctrines without having sufficient force behind them to carry them out. It is far better to have a con-

TAX ON LIQUOR LOST 50 YEARS

Gov. Haines in Favor of Its Abolition—Praises President Wilson

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—Gov. William T. Haines of Maine declares the prohibitory law of his state prohibits. He also believes liquor advertisements should not be carried in the mails and that the federal government should not collect a tax for the manufacture and sale of intoxicants.

His views were outlined before the national convention of the Antislavery league here last night in a paper prepared for presentation to the convention, but read by Rev. Wilbur F. Derr, superintendent of the Christian Civil League of Maine, the governor being unable to be present. The paper was entitled "The Maine Law, or Does Prohibition Prohibit?"

The federal tax now collected for the manufacture and sale of liquor was put on as a necessity of war, he says. "Why continue it? The fact that the federal government licenses the sale of liquor and the state prohibits it makes a dual situation between the two governments, over the same people. They are inconsistent and one of the other is right or wrong."

Why should the nation carry advertisements for liquor sellers any more than for lottery ticket vendors? We permit the one and prohibit the other. Which is the greater evil? This is a question for congress to consider and in the very near future.

Gov. Haines made an amendment to the constitution, as suggested by Gov. Baldwin in a recent address, to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors, but we do not need an amendment to repeal the internal revenue tax on liquors, or to prohibit the carrying of liquor advertisements in the mails, and thus take the federal government out of co-operation with the whiskey and beer interests. Nothing would strengthen the hands of the state more than such legislation.

Gov. Haines paid his respects to President Wilson and Sec. Bryan, saying: "All in the great satisfaction to feel that we have two great democrats in the nation, President Wilson and Sec. Bryan, who we all feel are on the moral side of this great question and can be depended upon to sustain the cause of prohibition, independent of domestic matters having to do with the cause of their party, even if it ever comes to an issue of that kind."

Ex-Gov. Malcolm C. Patterson of Tennessee made one of the notable addresses of the day. He has long been an opponent of the Antislavery league and told of his conversion. After reviewing his own career in saving the nation, he said:

"Going through life I have seen it drag down many of the associates of my boyhood, blighting their hopes and consigning them to untimely graves. I have seen its forked lightning strike my first-born—the child of my young marriage. I have borne with him the suffering and tried to help him in his heavy but sometimes melancholy struggle for redemption."

Gov. George H. Hedges of Kansas urged nation-wide prohibition in a stirring address last evening. The committee having in hand the formation of a prohibitory amendment to the federal constitution will meet on Friday and it is expected that 1000 signatures will be attached, including governors, ex-governors and congressmen.

Gov. L. B. Haines of North Dakota detailed the prosperity of his state under the prohibition regime.

Rev. J. J. Curran of Wilkesbarre, Pa., known as a close personal friend of ex-President Roosevelt, said that the Catholic church, through individual expressions of its clergy, eventually will give hearty endorsement to the work of the Antislavery league, just as it has worked for personal abstinence in the past.

SCENE AT LAST EXHIBIT AND TWO LEADING FIGURES IN NEXT NAT. HORSE SHOW TO BE HELD IN NEW YORK

ALFRED VANDERBILT
MARION HOLLINS

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The national horse show opens here in Madison Square Garden Nov. 15 and lasts a week. The entries in all classes are notable, and the exhibit promises to be a thoroughly successful one. Alfred Vanderbilt, president of the National Horse Show association, has taken box 12, which he has occupied for many years, defying superstition. He will be a leading exhibitor. Marion Hollins, the society favorite and horsewoman, will drive several entries and ride several saddle horses. The list of box holders includes Russian Ambassador Bakhmetoff, E. H. Gary, E. Francis Hyde, Colonel Robert M. Thompson, William Ziegler, Jr., Samuel D. Riddle of Philadelphia, Robert T. Collier, F. Ambrose Clark, Walter Watson, Gen. James A. Bachman of Washington, Harry Payne Whitney, James McLean, William G. Pont, Walter P. Bliss and Clarence Blair, who will share box 35; William H. Moore, J. Sumner Draper, Daniel Guggenheim, William M. Fleitmann, Mrs. E. H. Harriman and Miss Kate Cary, etc.

With the exception of that of William Hamilton, all the nominations sent in were confirmed by the executive council. In such cases as his the law provides that nominations shall not be acted upon the same day they are made.

The council refused to adopt the recommendation of the board of parole that the minimum sentence of Aaron Mendelssohn, who is under sentence of from three to seven years for uttering two forged indorsements of promissory notes, be commuted to 15 months. This action will preclude any further attempt to obtain Mendelssohn's release this year.

The parole board, in its recommendation, states that Mendelssohn does not appear to have been a professional forger and that he has used parents dependent upon him for support.

On Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 2:30 a. m. the executive council will proceed to the official canvass of the votes cast at the recent election for governor, state officers, councilors, senators and registrars of probate.

WANT MORE PAY

22,000 Fall River Mill Employees Demand an Increase in Wages

FALL RIVER, Nov. 13.—The first official action in a movement to secure a general increase in wages for the 22,000 operatives in the 103 cotton mills of this city was taken last night. Four of the five textile unions of the city voted to ask the Textile council, the central organization of operatives for indorsement or demands for an advance in the wage scale. These unions were the weavers, among whom the agitation for an increase started several weeks ago, the carders, slanders and spinners. They represent about three-fourths of the organized mill workers of the city and about one-third of all the operatives. The Loom-fixers' union, the only organization which did not meet, is expected to be called in special session next week to take action on the wage demands, possibly prior to the meeting of the Textile council, which comes Wednesday night.

In explanation of last night's action, Secretary James Whitehead of the weavers said: "There has been a feeling of unrest among the operatives for some time past. They feel that the time is opportune for an increase in wages. This is due to the fact that a short time ago two of the largest corporations in the city, the Union mills and the Luther mills, declared big dividends. The Union mills paid a cash dividend of $600,000, the Luther mills one of 50 per cent, which amounted to about $175,000. Several other mills have declared large dividends recently. That is mainly the reason why the agitation for increased wages was started at this time."

Other officers of the weavers said they were determined to force the issue, and that they hoped to receive the solid support of the other organizations in the city.

AGED PRINTER DEAD

THOMAS W. BURR, OF BANGOR, PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY—WAS 81 YEARS OF AGE

BANGOR, Me., Nov. 12.—Thomas W. Burr, for many years one of the most prominent and well known residents of Bangor, died yesterday at the age of a little less than 81 years. His death was the result of a complication of diseases consequent upon his advanced years. Mr. Burr was until a very short time before his death president of Thomas W. Burr Printing Co. This is one of Bangor's important business houses. He was one of the oldest of Maine printers, a highly esteemed member of the fraternity, widely known socially as well as to business circles and honored in Bangor. Of this order he was a 32nd degree member. His death is mourned by a large circle of friends.

ORDERED TO PUNISH SON

JUDGE TELLS MOTHER TO TAKE LAD HOME AND GIVE HIM A SOUND THWACKING

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 12.—"Take that boy home and give him the soundest thrashing he ever had," said Judge O'Meara in the city court to Mrs. Pietro George, whose offspring had been charged with petty thieving from a haberdashery shop.

"Like that?" asked Mrs. George as she swung on her youngest son hard that it staggered him.

"Yes; only more of it," said Judge O'Meara.

Mrs. George promised to punish the lad.

Judge O'Meara said that if the parents would give their erring children some sort of real punishment the courts would have less juvenile business.

FREES CONFESSED THIEF

U. S. District Attorney French Drops Indictment Against Man Accused of Robbing Mails

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—United States Dist. Atty. Asa P. French created a sensation in postal circles yesterday when he not only dropped an indictment against Roscoe B. Jewett, a confessed thief in the registry division.

Mr. French stated last night that he did it on the recommendation of Lawrence Letherman, the postoffice inspector in charge at Boston.

Mr. Letherman denies that he made such a recommendation.

No extenuating circumstances are known. In fact it has been rumored about the federal building for a long time that an attempt would be made to get Jewett off without a jail sentence. These rumors were confirmed yesterday.

The action of the district attorney is all the more surprising, as it is regarded as an entire reversal of what was understood to be the accepted policy of the government in all such cases.

Last June the United States district attorney appeared before Judge Morton in open court and contended with a great deal of force and vigor that a jail sentence was necessary to put a stop to the practice of stealing from the mails, which has been going on for years at an apparently increasing rate.

Acting on his suggestion Judge Morton announced that he would sentence Jewett to jail for two years and the latter for one.

In consequence of this decision and at the urgent solicitation of Mr. French Judge Morton sentenced Robert E. Drayton of Brockton and Charles J. Lynn of Malden to prison, the former for two years and the latter for one.

Since then it has been the understanding in postal circles that nothing could save a man from jail if he were caught stealing.

As this was a reversal of the old wavering policy of severity in some cases and leniency in others, which opened wide the gates for political and social influence in the administration of justice, the policy of the new sentence was hailed with delight by the postal officials.

Mr. French seemed to accept it with alacrity and stated that he believed it would have a wholesome effect.

The postal officials had long complained against the wavering policy of the government and it was understood that the district attorney welcomed the change as a means of eliminating the tremendous political and social influence that was brought to bear upon his office every time a postal employee was caught stealing.

At times the pressure was so great as to be almost demoralizing. It resulted in what was looked upon as a travesty of justice. Certain individuals were held up as awful examples of what the law could do to a faithless employee while others, holding more responsible positions, were allowed to go scot free and everything possible was done by the agents of the law to protect them from the penalty of their crime.

The policy of a jail sentence for theft was regarded throughout the "department" as a step in the right direction. No criticism was heard against it, as severe measures were regarded as necessary to protect the inviolability of the mails.

P. O. Official Interested.
Although Mr. French, as head of the office, is responsible for the disposition of the case, it is understood that a certain postal official who was interested in the case engineered it through the district attorney's office.

Jewett, who is unmarried, was arrested on complaint of Postoffice Inspector Jennings as the result of a decoy letter. He was indicted by the federal grand jury June 29, 1912, on a charge of stealing from the mails. He pleaded guilty on July 6, 1912, over a year ago.

Since then rumors of influence have circulated about the federal building regarding the case. An attempt was made to bring it before Judge Bingham one day while Judge Morton was away, but the judge was too busy and declined to hear it.

No attempt was ever made to bring the case before Judge Morton, who announced the jail policy. The disposition of the matter is regarded as an attempt to thwart the policy established by Judge Morton in such cases.

Written on the indictment is the following statement: "Upon careful investigation and with the suggestion and approval of the postoffice inspector in charge at Boston, I have determined that I will no further prosecute this indictment." Mr. French's name is not signed to the statement, as is the custom.

Mr. French, however, took responsibility for the action, stating that it was done after consultation with Assistant United States District Attorney Garland, and as he understood the recommendation of Chief Postoffice Inspector Letherman.

Mr. French was not in his office at the time, but stated that he was of the opinion that there were letters on file in his office from Mr. Letherman recommending that the case be dropped.

Assistant United States District Attorney Garland also stated that Mr. Letherman had approved of dropping the case.

Mr. Letherman denied that he approved of such a disposition of the case or that he had recommended it.

Neither Mr. French, Mr. Garland nor Mr. Letherman was in a position last evening to state any specific reason why Jewett should not be given a jail sentence in accordance with the policy announced five months ago, when the last cases of the kind came up for punishment.

The comfort and pleasure of having a clean, light, airy, sanitary office for your patrons, as well as yourself, makes work easy in the new Sun building.

MAYOR OF HUB

Congressman Curley Says His Hat is in the Ring to Stay

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—Congressman James M. Curley, in speaking yesterday of his candidacy for mayor, said:

"My velvet is in the center of the circle, there to remain until my opponent succeeds in accomplishing the impossible mathematical problem of squaring that circle, Jan. 13, 1914."

With reference to the warning sent out by Pres. Joseph A. Maynard of the Democratic city committee not to sign nomination papers until a candidate had been endorsed, Curley said:

"Edicts can be issued only by the king and the jester, and Joe Maynard is no king."

When Pres. Maynard heard last night of Congressman Curley's remarks he made this statement:

"Mr. Curley is endeavoring to be facetious at my expense, is, in my judgment, doing the democratic party hereabout a great injury. I thought that Mr. Curley and myself had a common point of view, in that it was for the best interest of the city and party that Mayor Fitzgerald be induced to run again."

"As an evidence of this I call the public's attention to Mr. Curley's statement when making appeals for signatures in Roxbury and South Boston and published verbatim in the press."

Mr. Curley said: "I desire to make this announcement now. If John F. Fitzgerald is a candidate for reelection, I will not be. I am not going to be fooled, however, and my papers are going to be ready to put in."

I have full assurance that the mayor is not going to be a candidate, but in case he changes his mind, and strange things have happened, and he decides to be a candidate, I will withdraw my papers."

"I now ask Mr. Curley if he means to break his pledge to the people, made when seeking signatures to his nomination papers."

Congressman Curley's statement that he is in the contest to a finish has put in the hands of Mayor Fitzgerald an added reason for declining to be a candidate.

The leaders who are urging the mayor to reconsider his oft-repeated intention of retiring at the close of the present term were yesterday very much disturbed. They asserted that the understanding from the beginning was that the congressman would not be a candidate if Mayor Fitzgerald was.

They would like him to explain why he has now repudiated his agreement.

So far as the mayor is concerned now, if Congressman Curley's statement stands, nothing short of a grave emergency will draw him into the contest.

Of course, with Congressman Curley, John R. Murphy and Thomas J. Kenny in the fight to a finish, the advocates of another term for Mayor Fitzgerald can see but defeat and confusion ahead for the democratic party.

Congressman Curley, they say, cannot win.

If the mayor persists that he will not enter a four-cornered fight and by so doing add to the confusion, his refusal will be charged up to the recent determination of the congressman to remain a candidate to the finish.

In that event many who favor the mayor for another term are likely to go to Thomas J. Kenny in such numbers as to insure his election.

The mayor's backers further assert that John R. Murphy will not be the gainer, because none of the democratic leaders has been able as yet to understand why he is in the fight. The conclusion, then, is simple, namely, the next mayor of Boston, will be Pres. Kenny of the city council, the nominee of the Citizens' Municipal League.

Mayor Fitzgerald last night again stated that the emergency has not yet arisen that would cause him to declare his candidacy.

$2000 WEDDING GIFT

MISS JESSIE WILSON SEES PRESENT CHOSEN BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Miss Jessie Wilson, the president's daughter, who is to be married to Francis Bowes Sayre on Nov. 25, stopped in the midst of the multifarious tryings-on of her trousseau yesterday to admire the wedding gift of the house of representatives—a beautiful diamond lavalliere.

The lavalliere, which is a decoration of the great east room, where the wedding will take place, are being completed and Miss Wilson had only visits to modistes and milliners to distract her from the contemplation of the hundreds of gifts that have arrived from all over the country and from Europe.

The lavalliere first selected by Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of Speaker Champ Clark, was later passed upon and purchased by James R. Mann, minority leader, and the speaker himself. They had $2000 for the purpose, contributed by representatives.

The pendant is outlined in pear shape and contains 55 small diamonds and one large canary diamond in the center. It weighs 6-4 carats and is perfect in every particular.

The small diamonds are set around the large one in concentric rings. A delicate lacework of platinum holds the stones together like a dash of ice water. All sorts of wires have been pulled and ruses resorted to in order to secure invitations.

Miss Wilson's gown is heavy cream white satin, but faint in tint. Old lace which is an heirloom in the family of Mrs. Wilson will be used to trim it. It has been used for wedding gowns many times before.

GIRL STARVING

Abandoned by Man She Loved, Young Woman Went to Woods

BRAINTREE, Nov. 13.—After wandering for 10 days in the woods, homeless and friendless, driven almost to distraction beneath the weight of a great sorrow, nearly starved and suffering from exposure, a young girl, a pretty 25-year-old immigrant girl, is in the town almshouse. She was found late Tuesday night by the police crouching up, shivering with cold, in an abandoned henhouse on the outskirts of South Braintree.

Betrayed by the man she thought was her sweetheart, driven from the little room she called home, burdened with the greatest trial of wretchedness, unfamiliar with the language or customs of the country, the girl preferred the life of a primitive savage to facing the world or returning to her native land in shame.

The girl was found late last night by Police Officer John T. Shea, his attention having been called to her by residents of South Braintree who had seen the woman in the vicinity of their homes, where she approached little children on their way to school to beg bread.

Officer Shea commenced a search for the woman, supposing it was some deranged person. Shortly after 11 last night he found her in a henhouse. She was in a terrible state from exposure, worry, starvation and fright. He had her taken to the Bridgewater home, the local almshouse. Here a physician found the woman in a delicate state of health, and this, added to the suffering she had undergone during her 10 days of wandering, made her case appear serious.

Officer Shea investigated the girl's story, and last night Angelo Leo, 22, was arrested, charged with being responsible for the girl's condition. Late last night he was admitted to bail.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

For years there has been a well concerted movement to educate the public to the advantages of doing Christmas shopping early and the arguments this year are even stronger than usual. During the Christmas season the store employees are very much overworked, and in order to cater to the happiness of others they are compelled to put in long hours in monotonous and fatiguing service. The storekeepers cannot remedy conditions for they are compelled to suit the convenience of the public, and while the public demands open stores and long hours it is not good policy to go against their wishes. The great field for improvement, then, is in educating the people to do their Christmas shopping early and not wait until the last minute when the stores will be overcrowded and there is all manner of inconvenience.

The recent juvenile law and the law regulating the hours of labor also make for conditions which necessitate early Christmas shopping this year. During former Christmas seasons, hundreds of young men and young women were taken in as supplementary working force, but most of these cannot now be legally employed. All must wish for compliance with the law, despite its apparent inconvenience and it is for the public to conform themselves to new conditions and help the storekeeper out in his new problems by doing the greater part of their shopping now. No one need fear that the Christmas season will become less picturesque as a result, for the attractive windows will prove a temptation too strong to resist later on when all manner of beautiful things peep at us through their garlands of holly. Prices now are somewhat lower than they will be a month hence, and the wise citizens will need no stronger argument than this for doing their Christmas shopping early. As the Boston Herald says: "The time to do early Christmas shopping is not to do it 'early' but to do it now."

PUBLIC MARKET APPROVED

One of the questions referred to the citizens of Fall River at the recent elections was the advisability of establishing a public market in that city, and the citizens approved of it by a large majority. The establishment of it, therefore, becomes one of the vital considerations there at present, and many suggestions have come from press and public as to the best course to pursue so that the plan may be tried out intelligently. It is admitted by most people that some external organization or commission should take the responsibility for the primary steps, as such a market is intended to reduce the cost of living and should be planned with an eye solely to this end. Speaking editorially of it the Fall River Herald says:

"The institution should be able to support itself. It should not become a burden on the taxpayers because if it should it would defeat its own purpose. To be self-supporting it must be efficiently managed. It will not do for the city to provide the market, throw open the doors and invite those who wish to do business there to move right in and set up their stands without restriction. Such a scheme would fail pretty quick. The only chance that the municipal market has of being a success lies in orderly management and intelligent supervision."

Lowell will watch the Fall River experiment and its effect on the people there with interest, for the public market idea has received strong support from our citizens and sooner or later we may do as Fall River is about to do.

WAGES AND FREIGHT RATES

The Erdman arbitration committee which has been considering the claims of the trainmen on the eastern railroads has decided that they were entitled to an increase of 7 per cent in their wages. This does not reach the figure demanded by the men but it is more than the railroads were at first willing to pay. In individual cases it may seem like a negligible sum, but it is estimated that the increase will cost the eastern railroads about $6,000,000 more for wages annually.

For a long time the railroads of this section and in fact in all parts of the country have been petitioning for permission to raise their rates to meet the growing demands. The new increase of $6,000,000 is not liable to make them cease their insistent petitioning. The income of railroads is now pretty clearly established and it does not increase in leaps and bounds as does their outlay. They may offset some of the increasing demands made on them by efficient management, but no sooner is some move taken which counts for economy than up comes another demand from some section, or other for an increase in modern equipment, or wages. The problem becomes more serious yearly for it is clear that there must be a limit in expenditures over which the railroads cannot go and still run at a profit. We are getting dangerously near that limit. The plight of the railroads was recognized by the Erdman committee, for when recommending the increase of 7 per cent, it suggested that the roads be given the requested permission to raise their freight rates.

ENCOURAGE READING

This is the season when the cold weather keeps boys and girls off the streets after school hours, and many of them find a great deal of time on their hands which the parents wish to see put to the best advantage. Part of this time should be put to the study of school lessons and definite subjects but there will still remain an opportunity to cultivate the habit of wise reading. Old fashioned people look upon time spent over books as wasted unless the book be of a dry or academic nature, but even the reading of novels may be made conducive to the instruction and education of the young. Fiction should be selected with discrimination but to an imaginative mind there are thousands of good books that will teach history, geography and kindred subjects while instructing and refining the mind and intellect of the reader. Our city library gives to all an opportunity for wise and wide reading and the parents and teachers of the city should urge our young people to avail themselves of the advantages offered there so abundantly.

MR. MELLE'S REVELATIONS

There may be a great deal of truth in the assertions of Mr. Mellen that there was a concerted financial movement back of the opposition to his conduct of the New Haven railroad, but his revelations come too late to be of much practical value. If it is a fact that, were it not for this opposition, fomented by Boston bankers, he could have maintained the 8 per cent dividend on New Haven stock, the stockholders will marvel much that he did not attend to their interests by fighting the alleged clique openly before he was forced from the management of New Haven affairs by public opinion. Discussion of what is now ancient history will do little good, though it is sometimes undeniably necessary, but still there will be great public curiosity to see how time justifies the claims of Mr. Mellen. It will take more than his mere assertion to remove from him the degree of personal responsibility for the muddled affairs of the New Haven railroad with which he was publicly saddled.

THE SCHOOL APPROPRIATION

The municipal council did the right thing in meeting an emergency yesterday, when at the special meeting called for the purpose, it voted $71,000 for the schools of the city. It was the proper course to pursue. The schools are one of the first considerations, and though sometimes there may be difficulty in adequately attending to their financial upkeep, there should never be possibility of their being closed for lack of money. In the neighboring city of Lawrence during the industrial stagnation following the disastrous strike, teachers in the schools as well as employees in many of the municipal departments were obliged to work for some time without getting paid. They were paid in full eventually but not until the city got an unenviable reputation. Lowell has avoided any such unpleasant notoriety and the members of the municipal council who voted the appropriation acted with a promptness equal to their prudence.

MRS. PANKHURST'S MISSION

The arson squad and the bomb squad of the militant suffragettes are again committing outrages in England, presumably with money collected by Mrs. Pankhurst in this country. Yet a local paper has said that she has as good a right to come here to collect money as John E. Redmond. The comparison is odious.

Mrs. Pankhurst, a convicted felon, comes to collect money which it is fair to presume, will be used for the destruction of public and private property and in harassing the government of a friendly nation. Mr. Redmond, one of the foremost statesmen in Europe, came to solicit funds to be used in aid of a constitutional movement for the liberty of a people. Although some people cannot see it, there is quite a difference.

A CONSUMPTIVE COUGH

A cough that bothers you continually is one of the danger signals which warns of consumption. Dr. King's New Discovery stops the cough, loosens the chest, lances the fever and lets you sleep peacefully. The first dose checks the symptoms and gives prompt relief. Mrs. A. F. Moritz of Glen Elder, Mo., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery cured a stubborn cough after six weeks' doctoring failed to help. Try it, as it will do the same for you. Best medicine for coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Every pack 12 cents. Price 12c and 25c. All drug stores, by mail. H. E. Buckler & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis."

CHILD LABOR LAW

Speaker Fears Industry Will be Driven From the State

BOSTON, Nov. 12. — Arguments against the child labor law and predictions that such legislation will drive industry from the state were made yesterday by several members-elect of the general court before the recess committee of the house of representatives which is making a general investigation into the conditions surrounding employment of women and children.

Senator Clarence W. Hobbs of Worcester contended that the majority of children less than 15 years of age are physically capable of engaging in light work. He suggested that an actual physical examination by quasi-public officials, rather than by family physicians, would be more effective in keeping out of employment children who would be thereby injured, than is the present age limit law.

He declared that the eight-hour limit on the employment of children less than 16 years of age should be removed and that the public physician should determine the fitness of every child to work, and the hours of employment as well as the nature thereof.

When asked an entirely different proposition, because industry cannot bear whatever burdens in the way of taxation are placed upon them, but industry can leave us, and just as soon as we make the burdens too severe it will do so.

Representative Benjamin F. Hatnes said it was apparent that something is wrong in the child labor law, but he declared that he favored its purpose. He suggested that the legislature might make provisions by which employers could cease discharging minors less than 15 years of age whom the law permits to work less than eight hours a day.

Representative George W. Faulkner of Pittsfield declared the judge of the local court recently told him that this fall there was an increase in the number of boys in court for misdemeanors, and that he found the cause almost invariably had been the new child labor law.

What is needed, according to Mr. Faulkner, is a law which will keep out of employment the under developed boy of 12 or 13, and permit the employment of the full-grown boy of 14.

Clifford Sherman, secretary of the overseer of the poor in New Bedford, said the new law has forced 25 or 40 families there to apply for public aid. Another result, according to Representative John Halliwell of the same city, is the complete demoralization of many mill departments.

"In many mills the minors less than 16 years of age who have been retained," he said, "are paid the same for 45 hours of work as they were formerly paid for 54, and this leads to dissatisfaction among the employers who are still required to work 54 hours."

"The owners are getting rid of minors less than 16 years of age as fast as they can find others to take their places because it means added expense to keep the younger boys at work. The immediate result is that the older boys have found the mills can't get along without them and they do their work as they please."

Other senators and representatives are expected to appear before the hearing of the committee at the state house today.

A DOUBLE LIFE

Dog Bite Gives Mother of Eleven Clue to Husband's Whereabouts

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Mary F. Carroll, wife of Kerman F. Carroll, was interested when her 10-year-old daughter Anna returned from the parochial school at Eighty-fourth street and Park avenue and said:

"Mother, the teachers all wanted to know about your being bitten by a dog in Flushing," and she showed her mother a clipping which gave an account of the biting of Mrs. K. F. Carroll of 22 Burling avenue, Flushing.

Mrs. Carroll is the mother of 11 children, seven of whom are living and make their home with their mother at 110 East Eighty-sixth street.

Carroll, the father and husband, is associated with the firm of Bliss, Doer & Carroll, horse dealers, and a brother of the late Joseph D. Carroll, the horseman who died more than a year ago, leaving a large fortune. Kerman F. Carroll inherited the income on $50,000 from his brother.

Kerman F. Carroll and his wife have not been living together for several years, and Mrs. Carroll at once wanted to know who the Mrs. K. F. Carroll was who had been attacked by the dog.

"Some one is using my name without authority or legal right," she said to a reporter last night. "There is no other Mrs. K. F. Carroll in New York. My husband and I, while not living together, are not divorced and we share."

This is the second time I have had my attention drawn to the fact that another woman is using the name Mrs. K. F. Carroll. Last summer I read in the papers where Sarah, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Carroll, had been saved from drowning. The story of the dog bite, however, has given me the first direct clue to my husband's place of residence.

From the investigation I have just made I find that my husband is living at 24 Burling place, Flushing. There are three sisters: Jessie, Bertha and Sarah. Bloomington—living in the same house, but I am unable to learn who the woman is who calls herself Mrs. K. F. Carroll. I propose now, however, to go to the bottom of this."

Carroll, a large man of 55, is a deputy sheriff under Harbinger, and is well known in the business world. Seen last night at No. 24 Burling place, and asked regarding the Mrs. K. F. Carroll, whose address was given as that house following the attack by the dog, he refused to give any information.

STRIKE LEADER

Jas. Larkin Liberated From Prison at Dublin, Today

DUBLIN, Ireland, Nov. 13.—James

Larkin, leader of the transport workers' union, whose members have been on strike since early in September was liberated today from Mount Joy prison where he was serving a sentence of seven months for sedition. Larkin subsequently appeared at the labor headquarters in Liberty hall and the occasion was seized upon by his followers to make a remarkable demonstration of their devotion to him.

FIGHT TO FINISH

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The release of James Larkin from prison in Dublin today has far from satisfied the labor world of the British Isles. It seems still further to have intensified the determination of the trade unionists to fight the labor dispute in Dublin to a finish.

An emergency meeting of the trades union parliamentary committee has been summoned for Nov. 13 when a general strike of work in the United Kingdom will be considered.

Robert Williams, general secretary of the transport workers union, said this afternoon:

"It must not be assumed that the release of James Larkin is the sum total of our demands. We are going for a still greater triumph in Dublin. The government must cease to act in collusion with the employers by giving facilities for importing 'scab' labor."

Mr. Williams intimated he had no doubt that unless the employers gave way before Tuesday next the trades

QUESTION OF LABOR

SEATTLE, Washington, Nov. 13.—

The American Federation of Labor having cleared away all preliminaries was ready today to take up discussion of the big questions of labor and reports of the committees. Among the resolutions offered yesterday was one by Dominick Alessandro, national president of the Hod Carriers' union, calling for revocation of the charter of the brotherhood of cement workers.

It is alleged that the brotherhood has refused to surrender jurisdiction over the cement and concrete laborers as ordered by the Rochester convention. Steps will be taken by the federation to organize federal employees into unions affiliated with the federation. Arrangements are being made to send organizers among the men. Today was the last on which resolutions may be introduced. Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, who addressed the convention yesterday left today for Washington by way of Portland and San Francisco.

DAY SETTLE DOCK STRIKE

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 13.—Representatives of the longshoremen's union and the agents of the steamship lines running to Portland held a conference last night which may result in the settlement of the strike now on in this city. No official statement was given out, but it is understood that the men were offered a compromise and that the proposition will be submitted to the union at a meeting Thursday evening.

Some of the men who quit work Monday on the pulp steamer Appoline returned to work yesterday. They were not members of the union, but had been induced to join the strike.

Athletes and Athletics

The Harvard team will probably spend the night before the Harvard-Yale game at the Vesper Country club on Tyngs Island. The larger college eleven is always taken away for at least one day before a big contest, the coaches wanting them to keep their minds off the coming contest as much as possible. The local club has a high honor conferred upon it when the Crimson spends the night before the Yale game at Tyngs Island.

Mitchell's Boys' school was no match for the Lowell high second team yesterday afternoon when the two teams met on the Billerica school's campus. The high school subs put over the only touchdown of the game, but failed to kick the goal.

There are several really good players on the high school's list of subs. Lynch, although very light, is a good back and is liable to make them all hustle when he takes on a little more weight. Foster, Baber, Croeland and Barton also played hard football yesterday and will bear watching.

Lawrence high received a setback yesterday when the Commerce high team of Boston trampled upon them for a 7 to 3 defeat. Commerce is fairly strong but not really a top notch team. The showing of Lawrence yesterday was not up to expectations, although Higgins' field goal was a beauty. Higgins was sent into the game for one play and booted the ball over with ease. It is a pinch he will be watched very carefully by the local schoolboys on Thanksgiving day.

Dartmouth wound up her Hanover football season yesterday afternoon. After the last practice of the year the team gathered around the dummy, which has been tackled so hard and often this season by the Green warriors and the entire college gathered around their eleven. This annual custom is a very imposing scene and is always carried out, rain or shine. The Dartmouth team left this morning for New York where they meet the Indians on Saturday. Over a thousand students turned out at five o'clock this morning and accompanied the team to the train with brass bands.

Ernest Nelson, the former Duntley senior star and probably one of the greatest athletes of the game ever turned out in this city, will endeavor to perform a come back stunt next Saturday in the game between the Excelsior and Wameet teams. Nelson will be seen in an Excelsior uniform and a great many will turn out to watch the former star in action.

Waltham high certainly treats her football team royally. The eleven will leave for Portland in a special train reserved for the players and their attendants and will enjoy the best in every line. The Watch City team looks like a sure winner over their Maine opponents.

The Yale undergraduates gave their team a great send-off when they left for Princeton today. The spirit at New Haven is not broken by any means even after the poor showing that the Eli eleven has made this season. Yale men look for a victory over the Tigers but the betting favors Princeton. On paper the Tigers are a better aggregation in every way.

The Brown team is playing the best football it has displayed this season, although that is not saying a great deal. Harvard should have no trouble in winning by a substantial score Saturday although it is certain that none of the plays being prepared for the Yale game will be uncovered in this contest. Coach Haughton will doubtless use but little variety in his plays next Saturday.

Francis Oulmet, the noted young golfer, was entertained by the Lawrence Country club yesterday and given a royal reception. Mayor Scanlon made a short speech of welcome and the golfer was cheered to the echo after his response.

"Tacks" Hardwick, the Harvard all-around athlete, broke his own strength record yesterday in the annual tests. Hardwick is looked upon by Dr. Sargent as one of the most perfectly built men who ever came under his observation, and not many athletes have escaped it.

The lists for the entries in the big intercollegiate cross country run on Nov. 22 have been made public. Thirteen colleges will compete this year. Penn will enter their crack middle distance performer, Meredith and his cross-country work will be followed with interest by the professional trainers. That Meredith is a wonderful quarter-mile runner is no doubt, but that he can do over the long cross-country course is not known.

CAPTAIN OF EXETER
EXETER, N. H., Nov. 13.—Edward L. Casey of Natick, Mass., was yesterday elected captain of the Phillips Exeter academy football team for next year. Casey is a product of Natick high school, having been a member of the eleven which won distinction as being one of the fastest high school eleven ever developed in Massachusetts, and which won the Midland interscholastic league championship in 1911. Last year he played quarterback for Exeter. His position was new to him, yet he performed in a very creditable manner, but last Saturday, as a halfback, with Enright and Bingham, he literally tore the Andover line into ribbons.

Casey is the third boy from Natick to become a wonderful football player. He and William F. Murray, who captained and defeated Andover eleven, played on the same team at Natick high, and both followed in the footsteps of Eddie Mahan, the now Harvard player, who obtained first knighthood of the gridiron game while at Natick high, and later went to Andover.

Although six of his team mates will not be available next year, Captain Casey should be able to assemble a powerful eleven in 1914.

KILBANE-ATTELL MATCH
NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Nov. 13.—Abe Attell, formerly featherweight champion of the world, received word yesterday from his manager, H. H. Moss, in New York, that he had been matched with Johnny Kilbane, the bout will take place on Washington's birthday in California. Attell says he will go west at once to train.

Monhegans lost to Iroquois in Close Contest on the Allys—How Was High Man

The Iroquois rollers won their match from the Monhegans last night at the Y. M. C. A. alleys in one of the closest games of the season by the score of 1316 to 1321. The last string decided the contest as the Monhegans were three pins to the good after the second string had been rolled. Dow was high man both in totals and singles, running up 557 and a single of 110. The summary:

IROQUOIS
Grant	92	35	21
Wrenn	84	59	80
Dow	110	65	89

Seede	72	84	257
Wilson	97	87	75
Pearson	95	23	58
Totals	451	443	437

The Tremont and Suffolk bowlers went to Nashua yesterday and took the last quintet of that city into camp by the score 1170 to 1109. The match was one of the best bowled affairs ever seen in Nashua and drew a large crowd to the alleys.

Perrin scored the high total of the evening with 311. His teammate, Whalen, was high single string man with a mark of 112. The lineup and summary of the match:

NASHUA
Williams	23	116	107

FOOTBALL STARS WHO HAVE MADE GRIDIRON SHARPS TAKE NOTICE

Two of the hitherto unknown players that have sprung into football fame this season are Ghee, the quarterback of the Dartmouth college eleven, and Lookaround, the snappy Carlisle Indian line player. Lookaround is a descendant of a Sioux chieftain and is a remarkably fast runner. Ghee's quarterback work is largely responsible for the wonderful showing made by his team this year, which includes victories over Pennsylvania and Princeton.

WOOD OUTPOINTS YOUNG LOWELL TEAM WINS

FALL RIVER BOXER HAS ALL THE BETTER OF TWO FAST BOUTS IN AUGUSTA, ME.

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 13.—Ray Wood of Fall River, in two six-round bouts carried the fight to Tiger Young of Hot Springs all the time last night before nearly 1000 in city hall.

Young, although displaying remarkable endurance, and at times clever foot work, got in few well-directed blows. He was unable to break Wood's guard, and the latter so rapidly forced the fighting that Young had little time to recover. In the first round, which was terrific, Wood brought the claret to Young's left eye. Young was knocked down in the fifth round of the second bout.

Kid Buchar was sent into dreamland Saturday afternoon in the day of the great game between the two Odd Fellows' teams, the Excelsior Wameet and Merrimack Unity lodges on the Bunting grounds. It is expected that a large number of spectators will be on hand, including a number of the women folk. The rivalry is great between the two lodges. The game will start at 2.15 p. m. sharp. The players are requested to be on the field by 2 p. m. The Excelsior team will be selected from the following members: Ed. Hanson, Geo. Camp, R. Hollingsworth, F. Parrington, E. Nelson, Ben Ingham, J. Royce, G. Ramsbottom, Thos. Oddie, W. Pomfret, J. Howarth, Linesman, Thos. Robinson. The game will be refereed by Mr. Will Taylor, a man who has had a long career in football in the Fall River district.

24 Leagues Represented at Columbus, Ohio, Meeting

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—Never before have baseball leagues in general had such representation at a minor league meeting. Major league magnates and managers, anxious to bolster up weak spots in their teams, are showing more interest in this meeting than they do at the meetings of their own leagues.

What action will be taken by the convention on the demands of the Players' fraternity was still a matter of conjecture here. Some owners, who attended the opening session of the convention yesterday, were of the opinion that the demands would be referred to a committee if they made their appearance on the floor of the convention, while others expressed the belief that the demands would not be presented.

Twenty-four leagues out of 43 holding membership in the association were represented at the meeting. When delegations snowbound at Cleveland, arrive it is thought that 30 baseball organizations will be credited with voting power.

Gov. Cox of Ohio and Gov. Hooper of Tennessee were the central figures at the afternoon session. Ohio's executive welcomed the delegates to Ohio, and Tennessee's governor reminded them that Nashville wants the next convention. President M. H. Sexton of the national association presided. The roll-call showed one or more delegates present from the following leagues:

American Association, International, Pacific Coast, Western, Southern, New York State, Three I, North-western, South Atlantic, Virginia, Wisconsin-Illinois, Southern Michigan, Central Association, Ohio State, Illinois-Missouri, North Carolina, Michigan State, K. I. T., Nebraska, California State.

Sessions of the national board, which has 167 cases in hear, have begun and it is thought the docket can be cleared by Thursday night. It was decided by the representatives of the Central League that all clubs of that organization shall pay $2000 each to the league's president on or before Jan. 15. The placing of this sum of money is to guarantee that each club will complete the baseball season.

Related arrivals were President Barrow of the International League, W. J. Clymer, manager of the Buffalo club; E. J. McCafferty of Syracuse and John H. Farrell, secretary of the National Association. Farrell left Auburn, N. Y., on Sunday and arrived here on a Cleveland, Akron & Columbus line, the first to arrive from Cleveland since Sunday's storm.

Farrell submitted his annual report to the association. It set forth that the number of players drafted during the year from the minor leagues by the major leagues was 88, of which the National League drafted 46 and the American league 42. National Association clubs drafted 139. The total amount received from drafted players, including money refunded on National Association drafts disallowed, was $227,250. American league, $59,100; National Association, $58,150; National Association, $109,000. Fifty-eight thousand eight hundred dollars was paid on optional agreements and $7200 was paid on drafted players returnable under the waiver rule.

MINOR LEAGUE

Standing of Teams and Individual Averages

The Minor Bowling League is fast developing into a very interesting series of matches and the league is now in the midst of the season has barely begun, though the season has barely begun, compare favorably with those of the older bowling organizations.

The Wameet stand at the head of the league at present with a pinfall of 1376 and a single string record of 472. The league standing as well as the individual averages are as follows:

TEAM STANDING

JOHNSON'S GREAT RECORD

Has Largest List of Strikeouts of Any Pitcher—Should Pass the 1500 Mark Next Season

It is a little bit early to print stories about what will happen in baseball next year, but one of the things that is pretty sure to happen is that Walter Johnson will then pass the 1500 mark in strikeouts—unless he breaks his priceless arm or decides to abandon the national game. The man who won the Chalmers car for being the most valuable player in the American league last season has also entered fast company, claimed 1458 strikeouts victims. No other major league hurler has in the seven consecutive seasons from 1907 to 1913 amassed this total of whiff exploits. In fact, only three other men have fanned over 1000 ball players in this length of time. These three are Ed Walsh, Nap Rucker and Christy Mathewson.

Rig Ed Walsh, the spitball star of the White Sox, has been Johnson's closest rival for the title of the Strikeout King of the Majors. The Chicagoan has compelled 1408 of his to take the whiff route to the bench since he has been a contemporary of the illustrious Washingtonian. Walsh twirled only in 15 games last season, but from 1907 to 1913, inclusive, he has been in 48 more battles than has the renowned Kansan. Christy Mathewson has fanned 1137 men in the last seven campaigns and Nap Rucker 1138. Eddie Plank, Connie Mack's peerless portlander, almost reached the thousand mark in that time, 997 of his adversaries taking the strikeout count. Chief Bender claimed 864 victims, Howard Camnitz 804, Jack

There were three triple plays during the season. One occurred April 21, Hendrix, Kelly and Miller of the Pirates worked it against the Cards. In the next month the Athletics got one on the Naps. Nearly the entire Philadelphia squad participated. The cast included Barry, Baker, Thomas, Houck, Collins and Oldring. Marahon and Myers of the Braves staged one against the Reds on June 12.

Perhaps the first feature of the season was that of April 18, when the Giants nailed Tyler and Brown of the Braves for a total of 20 hits. Then on May 14, Walter Johnson of the Senators established a record of 38 scoreless innings.

Pitchers Chas. Johnson, Harter and Smith of the Reds had merry time on May 21, when the Phils slammed them for a total of 20 safe hits. May 22 was historic because Walter Johnson was beaten by Cleveland, 5 to 0, after coping 10 in a row.

Fred Falkenberg of the Naps tied Johnson's season mark of 10 straight, only to be whaled on June 9 by the Red Sox, 4 to 1. About this time the Athletics were showing their teeth and capped 15 straight games in the league until stopped June 11, by the humble Browns, 5 to 2. The Browns have always had an exasperating habit of cutting in when least expected.

Pitcher Alexander of the Phils had been going along nicely, setting up victory after victory until the Cubs stepped in and beat him, 13 to 3, on June 16 after he had 10 straight. The 21st of June was interesting in that Jim Scott of the Sox whiffed 15 Browns, only to be beaten by Leverage, 2 to 0. The Sox got only two hits behind Scott.

Seven hits in a row of Pitchers Camnitz and Connor of the Pirates is the record made by the Cubs on June 30. The Cubs also figured in the feature column July 10, when they checked the Giants rush, 3 to 2. Up to that point McGraw's men had taken 14 in a row.

On the following day the Giants came back and nailed Pitchers Laverne, Pierce and Ritchie for 21 hits. The final count was 14 to 4. You may remember Recruit Roehling of the Senators was cutting a wide swath about this period. In fact, he had beaten everybody until he struck the Browns, July 28. They copied that day, 4 to 1, but Roehling was able to show 11 straight. Aug. 23 Walter Johnson beat his mark three games winning 14 straight before the Red Sox crushed him, 1 to 0, in 11 rounds. The word "crushed" is right.

Beckett, Hall and Anderson of the Red Sox will long remember Sept. 11. On that date the Tigers got 20 hits off their combined curves. Then on the very next day the Red Sox came back handsomely and hammered Pitchers Glover, Constock and Lorenz of the Detroiters for 21 bingles, the score being 15 to 1. Wow!

One of the remarkable events of the season came to light Sept. 17. Please remember that date, gentlemen. Frank Chance lifted his Highlanders out of the last place then. Pitcher "Cy" Young of the Athletics passed 12 Red Sox batters on Sept. 24, but his backers hit as usual and won, 10 to 9. Finally the Giants and Phils staged a triple-header on Oct. 2. This does not occur more than once a century.

WORK ON ADDITION TO GREENHALGE SCHOOL IS RAPIDLY PROGRESSING

THE ADDITION TO THE GREENHALGE SCHOOL SOON TO BE COMPLETE.

It was stated today at the office of Commissioner Cummings that work on the addition to the Greenhalge school is rapidly progressing. The extension is 60 feet 8 inches by 32 feet 8 inches and two stories high. The addition will be built upon the same lines as the old building and will contain six class rooms, workable rooms and other rooms. Work was begun on the addition in August, the contract having been signed on August 5. The contract calls for the completion of the work by February 14 of next year. The building must be ready for occupancy at that time. The municipal council appropriated $35,000 for the erection of the addition. The general contract was awarded to Daniel H. McKee, the amount being $22,284. The plumbing contract went to John J. Gaffney & Co. for $500 and the heating contract to John A. Cotter for $688. Henry L. Bourke was the architect.

HE ESCAPES DEPORTATION IN COURTS 23 YEARS

ILLITERATE, UNDER 16, PARENTS NOT ALONG, BUT HE MAY LAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Malcolm Clifton Duncan, who has not yet achieved the art of speaking the American language, arrived yesterday by the White Star liner Olympic and was detained by the immigration boarding officers because he was under 16 years of age and was unaccompanied by either of his parents. Under the law, if strictly enforced, Malcolm would have been compelled to go back to England. It took the inquisitors nearly two hours to find that he was entitled to land. The chief reason is that he was in charge of his grandmother, who is a native American.

Malcolm's mother, who also is a native American, is the wife of Lieut. Duncan of the British army, and is with her husband. The grandmother recently went to England to bring Malcolm here, teach him the American tongue and the "Star Spangled Banner." When these facts gradually sifted into the consciousness of the inspectors they released Malcolm in charge of his American grandmother, who was almost on the point of singing "God Save the King" when the decision was imported to her.

The grandfather, who was waiting on the pier for a first glimpse of his grandchild, born in England eighteen months ago, said it would be a cruel shame to send so handsome a boy back to England before he had seen his grandfather.

LOSS OF STEAMER CONFIRMED
CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 12.—The loss in Lake Huron of the steamer John A. McGowan, operated by the Hutchinson S. S. Co. here, was confirmed by officials of the company today. It is believed that Capt. C. R. Ney and all of the crew of 25 men were drowned. The company has received despatches from Goderich, Ont., saying three bodies were washed ashore there.

THE NATIONAL GRANGE

LOWELL WAS WELL REPRESENTED AT MANCHESTER TODAY—CONSIDERABLE DEGREE WORK

A number of grangers from this city and the surrounding towns left here this morning for Manchester where they will attend the second day's session of the National Grange. When the meeting convened yesterday morning 20 states were represented, a large number of delegates and members from Massachusetts being present.

At 12.30 o'clock today there will be the exemplification of the sixth and seventh degrees. This afternoon the second and third exemplification of the second degree will take place and this evening the second exemplification of the sixth degree will be held. The local members plan to be present at the conferring of all the degrees. The business session will not be opened until tomorrow morning.

MURDER TRIAL POSTPONED
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 12.—The trial of Arthur Mack, charged with beating his wife to death on October 21, was postponed from today until November 18. The state desires to await the decision of the coroner, who is holding an inquiry.

O'Neill-Crowley, 528, Fri night, A. O. H.

MATRIMONIAL
Mr. J. Russell Harrington and Miss Edith L. Sullivan were married at 6.30 o'clock last evening in the rectory of St. Columba's church. The pastor of that parish, Rev. John A. Degan, performed the ceremony. Miss Vera E.

Dancause, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Rawlinson of 165 Pawtucket street, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Randlett Smith at half past six o'clock last evening at the home of her parents.

Rev. Geo. E. Martin of Lexington, formerly of the Kirk Street church of this city, performed the ceremony. Mr. Smith had for 14 years been a member of St. Anne's vested choir and 20 of the men and boys of that choir were present and rendered selections at his wedding. They sang the Lohengrin wedding music during a processional from the upper landing of the staircase to the room, which was to be the scene of the ceremony. Following the ceremony they rendered "O, Perfect Love."

B. F. KENT'S THEATRE

If you wish to see how polar bears and when face to face with an audience don't miss the show at the B. F. Kent theatre, this week. Prince Emil, a Russian prince and big game hunter, has succeeded in hunting eight of the stunts which no other members of their kind have ever before done. (Cries of "Voddy" who are featured in "Those Two Italians" are literally a riot of fun. They constitute the best Italian character sketch team in vaudeville, and Lowell audiences like them immensely. "No Trespassing," a very pretty musical comedy, played by Mr. Winch and Miss Poore, is another popular and successful feature. Other things which are sure to please are: "The Quality Act," King Meyers, singing comedienne, Norman Carma and her Merry Minstrels; King and Kingman, novelty acrobats, and the Pathe Weekly. Seats may be secured in advance. Phone 25.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Already tickets are going fast for that Saturday matinee which marks the opening of the new season. Patrons will be given an opportunity of meeting the different members of the Merrimack Square Theatre Players, and afterwards every one an excellent chance of meeting their favorite as all the different members will be there. The "Quality Act," "The Quality Act," is proving to be one of the most popular plays which the company has so far presented. It is meeting with crowded houses, and is a play to satisfy the most exacting. The latest motion pictures which will again be changed to day for a newer set also shown, and the week "Mother" will be the attraction.

THE PLAYHOUSE

A new bill, announced today at the Playhouse, which will continue until Sunday, inclusive, Harold Brothers, European entertainers, promise a sensation, while Higgins, Phelps and Co. will give a play entitled, "The Property Man." The two midacts, "Queen Mab" and "Mr. Weir," will have a conspicuous place on the program. The evening bill, "The Fifth Commandment" will be presented by Panny Hatfield and her company. Moving pictures rounded out the entertainment. Friday is amateur night.

Beginning Monday next week, the Playhouse will put on refined burlesques and vaudeville. The orchestra will be given afternoon and evening.

THE KASINO

This is a live-act night at the Kasino, and men and women will enjoy dancing will also enjoy quality candy distributed by the management. Doyle's orchestra will play. Tomorrow night and on Saturday the Kasino will hold forth with Doyle's orchestra tomorrow and Miner's orchestra Saturday.

LAWRENCE MILL FIREMEN

Threaten to Go on Strike If Their Demands Are Not Granted Before Next Sunday

The time limit set by the stationary firemen of Lawrence, to receive an answer from the mills regarding their demands for an eight hour day, with time off on Sundays, will expire next Sunday, and there is much speculation as to what will happen in the event of the demands not being granted.

The firemen recently announced that unless their demands are granted, they will go out on strike. If they take this course the mills may be able to run a week without them by setting the firemen going by laborers. But the state law which allows a manufacturer to establish a system to run only a week with unemployed firemen would compel the mills to close after a week or else grant the demands of the firemen for an eight hour day.

If the firemen go on strike and remain out over a week it means the shutting down of the mills in all departments, unless a settlement is reached.

HANDS KING ALCOHOL BLOW

Speaker at Anti-Saloon League Urges Declaration Against Liquor

Praises Wilson and Bryan for Banishing Wine from Capitol

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12.—Speaking before the national convention of the Anti-Saloon League today Congressman-elect Daniel McMullin of Tampa, Fla., said:

"We are going to write here a second declaration of independence renouncing allegiance to King Alcohol, who has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts and destroyed the lives of our people."

"The people of this country," Mr. McMullin said, "rejoiced when Theodore Roosevelt proved beyond doubt that the brewer and distiller had no part in the making of his marvelous manhood. And the cause has been strengthened by the fact that we now have a president who has banished the wine cup from the White House and, God grant it, that it is banished forever."

The speaker also praised the action of Secretary of State Bryan in discarding alcoholic beverages from diplomatic banquets.

But more significant than the attitude of an ex-president or a president or a secretary of state," he said, "is the magnificent vote by which congress declared its independence of the liquor lobby and passed the Webb-Kenyon bill. That was the most staggering blow ever given the liquor interests of this country."

"We have tried to regulate the business but it is as hopeless as the evangelization of the devil."

"The fight for state wide prohibition is bound to give way sooner or later to the alignment for the broader contest of nation-wide prohibition."

DR. HARTLEY AND MRS. ARNETT CARRIED ON THEIR COURTSHIP BY CORRESPONDENCE

BALTIMORE, Nov. 12.—Declaring that he had not seen the face of his bride until after the wedding ceremony had been performed, Dr. Francis W. Hartley admitted yesterday afternoon that he had been married Tuesday evening to Mrs. Marian C. Arnett of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed in Franklin Square Baptist church by the pastor, and was witnessed by Allen Hartley, the doctor's son, and a few friends.

"Mrs. Arnett arrived in this city about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening," said Dr. Hartley. "She wore a thin black veil and went directly to the church. When we met in the church she held her face away from me to prevent my seeing it. When the preacher had finished the ceremony and pronounced us man and wife it was then for the first time that I saw her face."

Mrs. Hartley was radiant yesterday when seen at her new home on West Fayette street. She beamed on the doctor and declared that he was the best man in the world. She agreed with the statement of her husband that he had not seen her face until after the proposal was conducted by correspondence.

The bride was a widow and is forty-five years old. Dr. Hartley is fifty-six years old and has been twice married before. Dr. Hartley was married under the name of Heilery, by which name he was known when he lived in England before coming to this country. Another marriage license was taken out in the name of Hartley, but the ceremony was not performed under that name and the doctor says he is undecided whether he will be married under that name.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

At a meeting of the stationary engineers, local 352, held last night, it was announced that Thomas Hawley, a well known Boston engineer, will address the members of the union next Wednesday night. The meeting was well attended and four propositions for membership were read. An interesting program followed the business meeting.

Order of Moose

A special meeting of the Local Order of Moose was held last night for the purpose of initiating candidates who have sent in applications at previous meetings. It is believed that by holding special meetings the large number who have expressed their desire to join the order will be initiated more conveniently. By special dispensation from the supreme lodge the charter was opened on November 1 for a period of three months.

Centralville Lodge, I. O. O. F. met in regular session last night with a large number of members present. Five applications for membership were read and referred to the investigating committee. The first degree was conferred on several candidates under the direction of P. G. David A. Harkell. Many visitors were present.

PINDELL TO BE RUSSIAN ENVOY LOST IN STORM FOR ST. COLUMBA'S JOINS' CATHOLIC CHURCH

Bryan Says President Will Not Allow Misrepresentations

Sen. Lewis Declares that Letter was Forged by Former Employee

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Henry M. Pindell, the Peoria, Ill. publisher, will be nominated for ambassador to Russia, and the recently published correspondence which was alleged to have passed between him and Senator Lewis will not influence the president's decision. Secretary Bryan issued this statement yesterday.

The ambassadorship to Russia is vacant and the president has for some time been desirous of filling it by an appointment which would be entirely worthy of the great dignity and importance of the post. Knowing Mr. Pindell personally, his character, his ability, his exceptional fitness for the duties of such a place, he offered him the appointment. Mr. Pindell did not seek the appointment. It was tendered him not only without any solicitation on his part but without any knowledge or anticipation on his part that it would be offered him. In response to the offer he frankly stated that he would be glad to serve the administration in any way in which the president thought he could serve it successfully, but that he did not feel that he could conscientiously obligate himself to serve the full ordinary term of a foreign appointment because he did not feel that he could leave his business so long. "The president asked him to have been from me to the president because of his long association with his choice for conspicuous and responsible positions."

In making this statement Mr. Bryan declared the Pindell incident closed. Senator Lewis last night issued a statement explaining the much discussed letter from him to Mr. Pindell, asserting that a discharged employee of his Washington office had invented the letter, attempting to quote some of the words from the letters which the senator had actually written to the Illinois editor.

Senator Lewis said that the appointment of Mr. Pindell being assured, it was "but fair for me to state that if the newspapers have published a letter containing in so far as it appeared to be either my statement or as coming from me, I am responsible for this and not the papers."

Concerning the correspondence with Mr. Pindell, Senator Lewis said:

"The creation of these letters assumed to have been from me to Mr. Pindell, as published, now develops to have been the result of a collusion on the part of a former employee of my office in Washington who had previously forged my name to checks and had been protected by me from the penalty because of his family and certain of his confederates. They shaped these letters and sought to dispose of the same as being from me to Mr. Pindell—the stenographer having memory that letters of some kind on the subjects referred to had been dictated by me to Mr. Pindell. However, the language used and the phraseology in the invented letters were so foreign to any-

No Trace of Steamer John A. McGean of Cleveland

PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 12.—It was reported here today that the steamer John A. McGean of Cleveland, one of the largest on the Great Lakes, was lost in the storm of Sunday. The McGean passed here up-bound early Sunday morning and this was the last heard of her. The bodies of two men who sailed on the McGean are reported washed ashore below Sarnia.

DENOUNCES HANGING

MRS. PANKHURST SPOKE BEFORE SMALL CROWD AT HARTFORD—VENUE AT MARRIAGE OFFER

HARTFORD, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst arrived here yesterday afternoon and after a reception at the Union station was taken to the home of Mrs. Thomas N. Hepburn and later to Farmington where Miss Theodosia Pope, the rich suffragist and progressive enthusiast, served tea. Mrs. Pankhurst had not been in town long before she delivered a broadside against the state which has sentenced Mrs. Wakesfield, the 24-year-old murderess.

When she was asked if she would accept the proposal of marriage tendered at long distance by Dr. Henry C. Tanner of Los Angeles, who believes he has something in common with the English militant because he claims to be the champion faster of the world, Mrs. Pankhurst dashed her answer and looked quite militant. She was so annoyed she would not pose for any picture. "That's a most important question," she declared. "It's insulting and I won't discuss it. I'm a politician and not a marrying person."

Since last month, when the matter of attitude toward Mrs. Pankhurst put the state convention of Connecticut suffragists in an uproar, there has been a rift in the association and as a result the number who gathered to receive Mrs. Pankhurst yesterday was small. It was enthusiastic, however, and the younger women swarmed around her until it looked as though they might hold the little lady aloft and bear her to the automobile that awaited her.

She dined at Mrs. Hepburn's house last night and tonight will attend a banquet at Parsons theatre. After dinner last night she told what she thought about the details of the Wakesfield case as explained to her yesterday afternoon.

"It would be an outrage for men to have a woman who has no hand in the making of the law under which she is tried and sentenced. It sometimes takes a striking instance, such as this concrete example, to make a community realize the injustice of sentencing women who have no hand in the making or enforcing of a law and whose consent has not been asked. It is a crime shame in this supposedly free country, and the remedy, of course, is the vote."

FOR BIENNIAL ELECTIONS

QUESTION OF CHANGING PRESENT STATE ELECTIONS WILL COME BEFORE NEXT LEGISLATURE

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—The question of changing from annual to biennial elections will come before the next legislature. Representative Ruff of Gloucester has filed a petition for a revised law, and a similar proposal has been introduced by the people when submitted to them by the legislature in 1912. A bill to change the law was introduced, but failed to pass the house.

Amateur night, 7:30 p. m. at the Playhouse.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Bert's musical comedy at the Opera House today in the appealing story of a poor emigrant's struggles for comforts of life. It is a worthy feature, full of spirited action and has the necessary heart interest to satisfy even the most exacting. Another feature of special merit is the musical comedy, "The Family Honor." The story deals with an accident that happened during the Spanish-American war, showing the blow which the family suffered and the result of the struggle upon the lives of an American soldier and the daughter of a Spanish nobleman. It is a thrilling story, full of action and evoked spirited applause from the audience.

"THE SUNSHINE GIRL"

Charles Frohman will present Julia Sanderson in the triumphal musical comedy success "The Sunshine Girl" at the Opera House on Tuesday evening, Nov. 12th.

The complete organization that ran all last season at the Knickerbocker theatre, New York, will hold forth at the Playhouse for ten weeks, run at the 101st street theatre, Boston. The history of "The Sunshine Girl" is remarkable. It was originally produced by George Felling establishment to run only a week, the famous London manager at his Gaiety theatre in London and ran there for two years before Charles Frohman secured the rights and brought it over to introduce his newest star, Julia Sanderson. With this vision the best woman in the theatre world, the play is now in New York in capacity business, and was easily the one musical hit of the metropolitan season. The score

HUERTA FLEES FROM MEXICO

An unknown woman, supposed to be of Greek parentage, committed suicide this forenoon by throwing herself into the Pawtucket canal between the Moody street bridge over the river and the Pawtucket street bridge. Luther Hall of 78 Varney street, employed at the Communissey garage in Moody street, narrowly escaped death in attempting to save the woman. Mr. Hall in his heroic act caught the drowning woman around the neck and swam a distance of about 100 yards, but finally his strength left him and he was saved from death by several men who had gathered on the Cheever street side of the canal.

According to people who saw the woman, she seemed to be about 30

TWO MEN SENT TO PRISON

Youth Who Shot Girl on Highland Street. Was Sentenced — Another for Larceny

Costos S. Economou was given a sentence of from three to five years in the state prison yesterday for his assault upon Miss Della Cahill on Highland street a short time ago. He attacked Miss Cahill and attempted to snatch her handbag. When the girl screamed the man fired at her with a revolver and inflicted a wound in her hand.

The sentence was a very light one considering the nature of the crime.

The youth of the defendant was a large factor in the melting out of his sentence.

Christos Giannopoulos, charged on several counts with breaking and entering and larceny, was sentenced to three years in the house of correction. The defendant committed several breaks in the Greek district here in Lowell and is also wanted in Lawrence for the theft of $50. He was arrested by Sergeant Petrie of the local department after quite a chase.

JOHN H. MURPHY APPOINTED AT MEETING OF STATE BOARD OF TRADE IN BOSTON YESTERDAY

Secretary John H. Murphy of the Lowell board of trade went to Boston yesterday to attend the regular monthly meeting of the Massachusetts state board of trade. The state board's president's list of appointments to standing committees for one year contained the name of Mr. Murphy as chairman of the committee on statistics and information and a member of the transportation committee, the latter being one of the most important departments of the board and a most active one at this season.

The state board meeting was held in the Hotel Vendome and was largely attended. Important matters of business were discussed and acted upon. The body voted to send a delegate to the conference of advertising clubs of Massachusetts with reference to the abolishing of fraudulent advertising in magazines and newspapers. There was a long and interesting discussion concerning this question and the board pledged itself to assist the movement as far as possible.

During the session there was an address by Fire Commissioner Cole of Boston on fire prevention. There were other speakers on various topics.

In conversation with a Sun representative today, Mr. Murphy said that excepting Boston alone, Lowell made more of the prevention day than any other city in Massachusetts and this fact has not gone unnoticed. Today the secretary received several congratulatory letters, from the National Fire Underwriters' association, National fire prevention association, and others.

CARRANZA REJECTS PRES. WILSON'S OFFER

Says Constitutionalists Desire Only Right to Import Arms—President Wilson Prepares Statement

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 12.—Reports that General Huerta had fled from the federal capital were revived late this afternoon owing to the inability of those interested in his actions to find any definite trace of him up to a late hour.

GENERAL CARRANZA OPPOSES INTERVENTION IN MEXICO

BY UNITED STATES

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 12.—General Carranza, head of the constitutionalists, said today he would not accept mediation in any form by the United States or any other foreign government. He reiterated statements that the constitutionalists desired only the right to import arms and ammunition from the United States.

Whether their contents had to do with the sudden change was not disclosed.

The statement was said at the White House to be informative in character and it was understood it might outline the future policy of the United States.

GEN. CARRANZA, REBEL LEADER AWAITING WORD FROM PRES. WILSON

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 12.—With President Wilson in possession today of the answer to the proposition presented yesterday through William Bayard Hale, General Venustiano Carranza, leader of the constitutionalist revolt against Huerta, awaited word from Washington this afternoon. The proposition presented by Hale is understood to have been that the United States would open the border for the constitutionalists to obtain arms if Carranza could guarantee the establishment of order within a reasonable time and the foundation of a representative government. Neither Carranza nor Hale would give any intimation regarding the results of the conference yesterday but it is known that Carranza has said intervention by the United States is not necessary.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Wilson told the Washington correspondents today that he did not now contemplate issuing a statement on the Mexican situation.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12.—The convention of the National Association of Baseball Clubs this afternoon voted down the proposal of the national commission to make the contracts of all professional ball players uniform.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Action on the proposal to give women the vote in church government was postponed today for one year by the Protestant Episcopal convention of the diocese of New York.

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Three belated transatlantic liners, the Cambrian from London, the Hanover from Bremen and the Parisian from Glasgow, which arrived today, each brought reports of terrible gales and mountainous seas.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CRITICISED

Mr. James J. Gallagher, candidate for alderman, addressed a gathering of citizens at the Jackson street gateway of the Geo-Lowell Machine shop this noon. Mr. Gallagher spoke on the work of the fire and water departments at the present time, and during the course of his talk he mentioned an incident that happened when two alarms were sounded last night, within a short time.

Mr. Gallagher said that when the protective was responding to an alarm from Box 155 an hour tube gave out and no other tube was in the possession of the department. He said it was necessary for a man to journey to a garage to have the tube mended and while this was being done an alarm from Box 215 was rung in. The protective was not ready to go to the fire, claiming Mr. Gallagher, and that is not a business way to supply equipment for the fire apparatus.

HAD BIRTHDAY PARTY

The home of Mrs. John Brown, 33 Tyler street, was the scene, last evening, of a very pretty birthday party in honor of the 11th anniversary of Mary Ella Devlin. An entertainment program included dancing, singing and recitations. Miss Devlin was presented a beautiful locket and chain and although it came as a complete surprise to her, she made happy and appreciative response. After the presentation, refreshments were served and games and singing were resumed. The party broke up at a late hour, all wishing the hostess many happy returns of the day.

BUTCHERS AND GROCERS MET

The monthly meeting of the Lowell Grocers and Butchers association was held last night at Builders exchange with President Edward S. Fitzpatrick in the chair. Secretary Fitzpatrick's report of the previous meeting was accepted as read. The committee affiliated with the Boston association, read an encouraging report. A committee was appointed to visit Mayor O'Donnell regarding the closing of grocery stores on Sundays.

After the meeting there was a local debate on local politics, the following being the principal speakers: George Maguire, James F. McGarvey, William Farlow and Edward Fitzpatrick.

SULZER SPENT ONLY $200

All Contributions in Race for Assembly Handled by Treasurer of Campaign Committee

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—William Sulzer, assemblyman-elect on the progressive ticket from the sixth district, filed his affidavit of campaign expenditures and receipts in the county clerk's office late yesterday afternoon.

Although he contended in the impeachment proceedings that it was unnecessary to state the amount of his contributions when he ran for governor, he made this sworn statement as to the contributions for his assembly campaign:

"I have received nothing personally. All money contributed for campaign were delivered to received and expended by Col. Alexander S. Bacon, as treasurer of the William Sulzer campaign committee of the sixth assembly district."

Mr. Sulzer says he spent only $200, which he gave to Col. Bacon as treasurer of the campaign committee. The affidavit was sworn to before V. M. Turner, notary public.

TON OF OPIUM BURNED

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Nearly a ton of opium was burned in the big furnace today in the government appraisers' stores on State street. The furnace was also fed with numerous "haystacks" which the government inspectors have seized during the past months.

A woman named Mrs. Pelletier, rear of 13 Moody street, claiming that a thief entered her house yesterday and stole some clothing.

NINE EGG DEALERS HALED TO COURT

On Charge of Not Labeling Cold Storage Eggs — Some Plead Guilty Others Fight Charge

The state inspectors were very busy people this morning at the police court. No less than nine local provision dealers were in court charged with not complying to the law relative to the marking of cold storage eggs.

Five of the dealers pleaded not guilty to the charge of unlawfully offering for sale eggs which had been in cold storage and which were not properly placarded as such. Omer Bernard, Edmund Loranger, Adolphe Marchand and

CHARGE DEFRAUD OF CITY

Contractors Arraigned for Conspiracy in Connection With the Erection of New Bedford School

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—William H. Scully, local manager and Frank E. Soule, assistant manager of the Pittsburgh Glass Co., and Herbert L. Wardner, a Boston architect, pleaded not guilty in the Suffolk county criminal court today to an indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the city of New Bedford in connection with the erection of the new classical high school building in that city.

District Attorney Pelletier stated that he expected two prominent citizens of Pittsburgh who also are indicted in the indictment would come to Boston without extradition proceedings.

District Attorney Pelletier stated after the arraignment that he expected the case would shortly come to trial. The indictment alleged that the defendants conspired to defraud the city of New Bedford by obtaining a contract for the erection of the new high school building in that city.

Among the witnesses before the grand jury yesterday were former Mayor William J. Bullock, Joseph L. Gilks, superintendent of public buildings, Charles H. Sawyer, clerk of committees, Walter Remington, city clerk and W. S. Cook, city treasurer, all of New Bedford.

Miss Buckingham then came to the scene of her commission and related a story of blows upon the man's face that he had with a bleeding nose. After showing the man for some distance, Miss Buckingham returned and notified her father, Capt. Erasmus M. Buckingham, an oyster grower, who with several others, made a search. The man was arrested later in the morning by the police.

Miss Linscomb was considerably shaken up and bruised, but the only injuries Miss Buckingham bore of the encounter when she appeared in court yesterday were sprained wrists and bruised knuckles.

RUSH IMMIGRATION WORK
CANNETT RECOGNIZES NEED OF BOSTON PORT FACILITIES—ADMIT TWO IMMIGRANTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Plans for rushing work on the immigration station at Boston were announced yesterday by Commissioner of Immigration Canine, after a long conference with Oscar Wunderlich, supervising architect of the treasury department.

Instead of taking Boston in its regular order on the list in the architectural bureau, which would preclude the work for many months, Commissioner Canine and Mr. Wunderlich decided to advance it to the very head of the list and to start work as soon as possible.

This is the second decision favorable to Boston announced by the administration in two days, the treasury department yesterday having approved the plans of the chamber of commerce for early work on the appraiser's steps and having promised to commence operations without a moment's unavoidable delay.

The recognition of Boston as one of the greatest and most promising ports of the country was voted yesterday by Mr. Canine, as it was Tuesday by Assistant Secretary Newton of the treasury.

After twice being ordered deported because of weak heart, Domenico Lo Stillo was allowed to land in Boston and to go to the farm of his daughter at Littleton. Immigration Commissioner Canine, having issued an order to this effect at the instance of Representative Curley.

An order was also issued to permit the entry of Mrs. Taube Sugar, alias on Mr. Curley's plea, and the new will be able to join her six children, who have been allowed to land.

SAVING OF 100 MILLION ROADS VS. CANAL

BOSTON FIRE COMMISSION FORMS THAT DECREASE IN WASTE IF EFFORT IS MADE

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—An annual saving of $100,000,000 in fire losses and the reduction of the cost of the nation's fire departments by three-fourths of its present total was predicted yesterday afternoon by Fire Commissioner Charles H. Cole, with the proviso that the campaign be started now and continued vigorously for 10 years.

He spoke before the executive council of the Massachusetts board of trade, gathered in monthly meeting at the Y. M. C. A. for a complete reform of present methods of dealing with the fire problem in city, state and nation.

One of his demands was that authority in the matter should be exercised where it could best be exercised, instead of with the police. Mr. Cole also pleaded for a better organization, headed by a fire marshal.

George C. Morton of the Palat and Oil club explained the movement for having one week each spring designated "clean-up and paint-up week."

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not need them. If you are one of these unfortunate, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear "wind-does" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Opton; fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Opton tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start.

Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, catarrh, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or who wear glasses, would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late. Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong, magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.

FROM IRELAND TO BOSTON

LONDON REPORTS THAT CAPITAL HAS BEEN RAISED IN BOSTON AND GREAT BRITAIN FOR WORK

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Times learns that the capital has been raised in Boston and Great Britain for necessary engineering works and the establishment of a line of steamers running direct from Blackhead Bay, County Mayo, Ireland, to Halifax and Boston. This project is in connection with the scheme for all-British communication around the empire.

HELD UP U.S. MAIL

Federal Government After N. Y. Auto Drivers on New Charge

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The federal government continued its roundup of union chauffeurs charged with conspiracy to retard the operation of United States mails in connection with the recent strike.

W. J. Simpson and T. B. Kennedy were arrested early today in Long Island City. This made nine arrests and more were expected. Seven prisoners were taken yesterday, including Patrick Johnson, president of the union. Investigators for the government said they had learned the strikers had threatened to use dynamite in their efforts to thwart mail transportation by non-union men. The strike was broken by the prompt employment of strikebreakers and those who walked out were not taken back.

BOSTON WOMAN IS HONORED

Miss Alice Grady of Mass. Savings Insurance League

Council of the American Thrift Society

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—Miss Alice Grady, financial secretary of the Massachusetts Savings Insurance League, has just been appointed to the advisory council of the American Society for Thrift by S. W. Straus, president of S. W. Straus & Co., bankers, New York and Chicago, who has been in Boston organizing a Massachusetts branch of the society. It is a distinction for Miss Grady, as her fellow councilors include state governors and bankers.

Mr. Straus says America is a prodigal nation, and that thrift is a matter of character. By thrift he does not, however, mean a denial of comfortable living. Miss Grady started up-state yesterday to secure the co-operation of Massachusetts savings banks with the American Society for Thrift. She said she considers the $2500 man the one who is most extravagant, as he tries to appear like a man of a $5000 income. "Extravagant living deceives no one," she said, "whereas homes can be started on small savings."

Work is under way for a national campaign for thrift from the Chicago headquarters of the society. It promises to enlist the forces of school, church, rostrum and the cooperative organizations of farmers, mechanics and women in a great national effort to arouse the American people to greater individual thrift. The society is soliciting no funds. Mr. Straus is purely philanthropic in his interest. Individual thrift is his "hobby."

MISS ALICE GRADY

As he said in an interview at the Hotel Touraine: "The American Society for Thrift plans to promote nationally the individual thrift which is the basis of good citizenship and community prosperity. Duty financed, it has taken up a nation-wide inquiry to determine how best and most quickly to change the prodigal spirit of our times to the spirit of thrift. 'The prevailing spirit in the United States once was that of thrift. Today we are a prodigal nation. The maxims of Poor Richard seem forgotten. Thrift means more than saving—it means earning, working, planning, increasing as well as conserving. Upon individual thrift the prosperity of the nation depends. It is high time that more was done to encourage and teach it. We find that today too little is being taught that bears directly upon thrift.' Miss Grady is well known in Lowell through her connection with the Mass. Savings Insurance League.

TAMMANY "BAGMAN"

HE HAS SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE
FOR INDICTMENT

said he would be unable to resume his testimony this afternoon at the John Doe inquiry into charges that Tammany had exacted contributions from contractors doing state work. McGuire's testimony, the district attorney said, was essential before proceeding further. The hearing was postponed until next week, the exact date not being decided upon. John Kirkland Clark, an assistant district attorney, reported that he had obtained sufficient evidence to warrant indictment for extortion of one alleged Tammany "bagman."

RAY—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah C. Ray was held from her late home, 17 Oak street, yesterday afternoon and was well attended by relatives and friends. Rev. A. C. Ferlin, pastor of the High Street Congregational church, officiated. Among those who sent flowers were the following: Mr. Edward Ray, Mrs. H. Winters, Mrs. Douglas and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Driver of Detroit, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Francis, Mr. Roscoe Winters, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick, Rev. and Mrs. Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Ray and Geo. H. Ray. The bearers were Mr. Rhodes, Mr. James Talstead, Mr. John Francis and Mr. Silcox. The burial was in the Eden cemetery in charge of Undertaker Geo. M. Eastman.

HAND BADLY CRUSHED

JOSEPH PRUGELL, OF TUCKER STREET, HAD HAND JAMMED
—SAMUEL GANIN INJURED

While moving some heavy shafting today at the Lawrence Manufacturing company's plant Joseph Prugell, of 33 Tucker street, had his right hand badly crushed. The injured member was jammed in between two of the large steel frames and the little finger was so severely injured that it was found necessary to amputate it at the hospital. He was taken there in the ambulance.

Thumb Caught

Samuel Ganin, who resides at 4 Aiken street, met with an accident while at his work in the Tremont and Suffolk mills this morning at ten o'clock. He was engaged in running through pieces of cloth in his machine when his thumb was caught and the top of it cut off. The ambulance was summoned and the injured man taken to a local hospital, where the injury was dressed.

GIVES STATE'S EVIDENCE

MAN, WITH OTHERS IS CHARGED WITH CONCEALING ASSETS IN BANKRUPTCY

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—Expressing contrition for his acts, Asad Corey, formerly proprietor of a store at Whitefield, N. H., turned state's evidence this afternoon at the trial of himself and Joseph Charley, Joseph John and Kahl and Michael Ziter, all charged with concealing assets in bankruptcy. Corey stated he expected no reward for his evidence. He said his failure a year ago was an honest one. At the suggestion of Kahl Ziter, he said, he shipped some of his goods to Fort Kent, Me., and others to Joseph John at North Adams, Mass. Goods were also sent to Pittsfield, Mass., and Barre, Vt. A fortnight before the failure he sold goods to Joe Charley below cost, he said.

CURRENCY BILL 29 BODIES TOSSED UP

Six Democrats of the Senate Banking Committee Meet

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The six administration democrats of the senate banking committee met today to continue work on the currency bill they will report to the senate while Senator Hitchcock, the so-called insurgent democrat, met with the five republicans and worked on a dissenting report. The opposing camps separated by mutual agreement and will not meet in joint session again until Saturday. Meanwhile, however, they will exchange views informally. The administration senators will report a bill for eight regional banks with practically all the other provisions of the house bill. The republicans and Senator Hitchcock will urge that the number of banks be reduced to four and that the banks be publicly owned and government controlled.

STEAMER MISSING

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Nov. 13.—The steamer Norton, which left Whitefish Saturday afternoon has not yet arrived here and fear is expressed that she has been lost. The Norton is a steel freighter, 490 feet long and carried 5000 tons of coal for this port. Miner's, tonight, at Associate.

Twenty-nine Bodies Washed In

Up to this forenoon 29 bodies had been tossed up on the Canadian shore from Point Edward opposite here, north to Godrich, Lake Huron. The bodies were found in the wreckage of the steamer Regina, Charles S. Price, Wexford and James Caruthers were at the bottom of the lake. In the meantime the overturned derelict lay in the lake a few miles northeast of here as mysterious as ever. A diver was ready this morning to make another effort to learn her name, but he had to wait for the lifting of the fog.

Although marine men in this locality were still firm in their belief that the overturned steamer is the Regina the latter's owners were insistent to the contrary.

FOUR BODIES IDENTIFIED

Identification of but four of the bodies washed ashore had been made up to this time. Reports were current to the effect that ghoul had been busy and that the frozen bodies had been robbed of all their clothes, articles contained in them which might lead to identification.

Provincial detectives were today investigating these reports.

At least five other vessels on Lake Huron have not reported for several days. They are the Northern King of the Mutual Transportation Co., of Buffalo; Manol of the Pittsburgh S. S. Co., of Cleveland; I. M. Scott, Argus and Hydus of Cleveland.

The Argus was reported lost, but her fate has not yet been definitely learned.

COLDWELL GUILTY
Sealed Verdict Returned in the Case of Strike Leader

WORCESTER, Nov. 13.—A sealed verdict of guilty was returned today in the superior criminal court against Joseph Coldwell, who was one of the strike leaders during the labor troubles at the Draper Co. plant last spring on an indictment charging him with assault on Julius Harant, an employee of the Draper plant on May 7. The government claims that while Coldwell did not personally assault Harant, he incited strikers to attack the man when he was on his way to work. The jury reached its decision last night after considering the evidence for five and a quarter hours and the verdict was received in court today by Judge Nathan. Sentence will be imposed by Judge Raymond, who heard the evidence.

U. S. District Attorney French Drops Indictment Against Man Accused of Robbing Mails

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—United States Dist. Atty. Asa P. French created a sensation in postal circles yesterday when he dropped an indictment against Roscoe B. Jewett, a confessed thief in the registry division.

Mr. French stated last night that he did it on the recommendation of Lawrence Letherman, the postoffice inspector in charge at Boston.

Mr. Letherman denies that he made such a recommendation.

No extenuating circumstances are known. In fact it has been rumored about the federal building for a long time that an attempt would be made to get Jewett off without a jail sentence. These rumors were confirmed yesterday.

The action of the district attorney is all the more surprising, as it is regarded as an entire reversal of what was understood to be the accepted policy of the government in all such cases.

Last June the United States district attorney appeared before Judge Morton in open court and contended with a great deal of force and vigor that a jail sentence was necessary to put a stop to the practice of stealing from the mails, which has been going on for years at an apparently increasing rate.

Acting on his suggestion Judge Morton announced that thereafter all employees of the government, high and low, would have to stand before him on exactly the same level, and that all convicted of stealing would be sentenced to jail, regardless of restitution or influence.

In consequence of this decision and at the urgent solicitation of Mr. French Judge Morton sentenced Robert E. Lynn of Malden to prison, the former for two years and the latter for one.

Since then it has been the understanding in postal circles that nothing could save a man from jail if he were caught stealing.

As this was a reversal of the old policy of severity in some cases and leniency in others, which opened wide the gates for political and social influence in the administration of justice, the policy of a jail sentence was hailed with delight by the postal officials.

Mr. French seemed to accept it with alacrity and stated that he believed it would have a wholesome effect.

The postal officials had long complained against the wavering policy of the government and it was understood that the district attorney welcomed the change as a means of eliminating the tremendous political and social influence that was brought to bear upon his office every time a postal employee was caught stealing.

At times, the pressure was so great as to be almost demoralizing. It resulted in what was looked upon as a travesty of justice. Certain individuals were held up as awful examples of what the law could do to a faithless employee, while others, holding more responsible positions, were allowed to go scot free and everything possible was done by the agents of the law to protect them from the penalty of their crime.

The policy of a jail sentence for theft was regarded throughout the postal department as a step in the right direction. No criticism was heard against it, as severe measures were regarded as necessary to protect the inviolability of the mails.

R. O. Official Interested
Although Mr. French, as head of the office, is responsible for the disposition of the case, it is understood that a certain postal official who was interested in the case engineered it through the district attorney's office.

Jewett, who is unmarried, was arrested on complaint of Postoffice Inspector Jennings as the result of a doctored letter. He was indicted by the grand jury June 29, 1912, on a charge of stealing from the mails. He pleaded guilty on July 6, 1912, over a year ago.

Since then rumors of influence have circulated about the federal building regarding the case. An attempt was made to bring it before Judge Fitzgerald one day while Judge Morton was away, but the judge was too busy and declined to hear it.

No attempt was ever made to bring the case before Judge Morton, who announced the jail policy. The disposition of the matter is regarded as an attempt to thwart the policy established by Judge Morton in such cases.

Written on the indictment is the following statement: "Upon careful investigation and with the suggestion and approval of the postoffice inspector in charge at Boston, I have determined that I will no further prosecute this indictment." Mr. French's name is not signed to the statement, as is the custom.

Mr. French, however, took responsibility for the action, stating that it was done after consultation with Assistant United States District Attorney Garland, and, as he understood, on the recommendation of Chief Postoffice Inspector Letherman.

Mr. French was not in his office at the time, but stated that he was of the opinion that there were letters on file in his office from Mr. Letherman recommending that the case be dropped.

Assistant United States District Attorney Garland also stated that Mr. Letherman had approved of dropping the case.

Mr. Letherman denied that he approved of such a disposition of the case or that he had recommended it.

Neither Mr. French, Mr. Garland nor Mr. Letherman was in a position last evening to state any specific reason why Jewett should not be given a jail sentence in accordance with the policy announced five months ago, when the last case of the kind came up for punishment.

Thousands of Women

Have Been Restored to Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

There is no doubt about this fact. Why! during the last 30 years we have published in the newspapers of this country volumes of letters from women who have been relieved of all their suffering by the timely aid of this grand old medicine. Letters like the following, true, genuine and honest expressions of gratitude coming from grateful hearts. Surely you can believe these women.

Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Mich., says:—

"Sometime ago I was taken with a terrible pain in my right side, each sharp pain just like a knife sticking me. I tried hot applications but that did no good. I went to our family doctor (we were living in Fayette, Ohio, at that time) and he said it was organic inflammation. I doctored with him a while but kept getting worse. The pain was so terrible I could hardly stand on my feet. I would have that sharp pain in my right side, and a dull heavy pain the way down my limb. I realized that something had to be done quickly, so I looked up all of your advertisements. I found, and saw several that described your Vegetable Compound. I bought a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the first dose, and when I had taken two bottles my trouble was gone. Your medicine has done so much for me that I am willing you should publish this letter for the sake of other suffering women."—Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Michigan.

Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, Girard, Pa., says:—
"I take pleasure in informing you of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had a sick spell last February, and for some months after that I was not regular and had many bad feelings. I was tired all the time and could hardly walk without feeling dizzy. I also what the doctor called organic inflammation. Your Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me and I feel that too much cannot be said in its praise as I am now able to do my own work. You are perfectly welcome to use my testimonial for the benefit of others."—Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, R.F.D. No. 1, Girard, Pa.

Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, Buffalo, N.Y., says:—
"I feel that I must write to you about your wonderful remedies. About ten years ago I was troubled with female weakness and was all run down. I was tired all the time and could hardly walk without feeling dizzy. I heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it, and also used the Sanative Wash. I got stronger, and have not had those dizzy spells since. I feel that I owe my health to you, and hope your remedies will help others as they have me. I tried most everything I heard of, and yours are the best medicines for women's ailments."—Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, 26 Glen Street, Buffalo, New York.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

All these testimonials are guaranteed genuine and truthful. The original of each came to us entirely unsolicited. They are sincere expressions of gratitude for actual benefits received from the medicine.

MAYOR OF HUB

Congressman Curley Says His Hat is in the Ring to Stay

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Congressman James M. Curley, in speaking yesterday of his candidacy for mayor, said: "My velvet is in the center of the circle, there to remain until my opponent succeeds in accomplishing the impossible mathematical problem of squaring that circle, Jan. 13, 1914."

With reference to the warning sent out by Pres. Joseph A. Maynard of the Democratic city committee not to sign nomination papers until a candidate had been endorsed, Curley said: "Edicts can be issued only by the king and the jester, and Joe Maynard is no king."

When Pres. Maynard heard last night of Congressman Curley's remarks he made this statement:

"Mr. Curley is endeavoring to be facetious at my expense. In my judgment, doing the democratic party hereabout a great injury. I thought that Mr. Curley and myself had a common point of view, in that it was for the best interest of the city and party that Mayor Fitzgerald be induced to run again.

"As an evidence of this I call the public's attention to Mr. Curley's statement when making appeals for signatures in Roxbury and South Boston and published verbatim in the press.

"Mr. Curley said: 'I desire to make this announcement now. If Hon. John F. Fitzgerald is a candidate for reelection, I will not be. I am not going to be a fool. I have no money, and my papers are going to be ready to put in. I have full assurance that the mayor is not going to be a candidate, but in case he changes his mind, and stranger things have happened, and he decides to be a candidate, I will withdraw my papers.'

"I now ask Mr. Curley if he means to break his pledge to the people, made when seeking signatures to his nomination papers."

Congressman Curley's statement that he is in the contest to a finish has put in the hands of Mayor Fitzgerald an added reason for declining to be a candidate.

The leaders who are urging the mayor to reconsider his oft-repeated intention of retiring at the close of the present term were yesterday very much disturbed. They asserted that the understanding from the beginning was that the congressman would not be a candidate if Mayor Fitzgerald was.

So far as the mayor is concerned now, in Congressman Curley's statement, nothing short of a grave emergency will draw him into the contest.

Of course, with Congressman Curley, John R. Murphy and Thomas J. Kenny in the fight to a finish, the advocates of another term for Mayor Fitzgerald can see but defeat and confusion ahead for the democratic party. Congressman Curley, they say, cannot win.

If the mayor persists that he will not enter a four-cornered fight and by so doing add to the confusion, his refusal will be charged up to the recent determination of the congressman to remain a candidate to the finish. In that event many who favor the mayor for another term are likely to go to Thomas J. Kenny in such numbers as to insure his election.

The mayor's backers further assert that John R. Murphy will not be the winner, because none of the democratic leaders has been able as yet to understand why he is in the fight. The conclusion, then, is simple, namely, the next mayor of Boston will be Pres. Kenny of the city council, the nominee of the Citizens Municipal League.

Mayor Fitzgerald last night again stated that the emergency has not yet arisen that would cause him to declare his candidacy.

MISS JESSIE WILSON SEES PRESENT CHOSEN BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Miss Jessie Wilson, the president's daughter, who is to be married to Francis Bowes Sayre on Nov. 25, stopped in the midst of the multifarious tryings-on of her trousseau yesterday to admire the wedding gift of the house of representatives—a beautiful diamond lavalliere.

The invitations are out, the decorations of the great east room, where the wedding will take place, are being completed, and Miss Wilson had only visits to modistes and milliners to distract her from the contemplation of the hundreds of gifts that have arrived from all over the country and from Europe.

The lavalliere first selected by Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of Speaker Champ Clark, was later passed upon and purchased by James R. Mann, minority leader, and the speaker himself. They had $2000 for the purpose, contributed by representatives.

The pendant is outlined in pear-shaped and contains 35 small diamonds and one large canary diamond in the center. It weighs 5-14 carats and is perfect in every particular.

The small diamonds are set around the large one in concentric rings. A delicate lacework of platinum holds the whole together. The chain around the neck, which is platinum, contains 14 diamonds. The necklace and lavalliere were included in a silver box lined with lavender plush.

The announcement that the invitation list would be restricted to 600, which would include only about one-tenth of the inner circle of Washington society, struck like a dash of ice water. All sorts of wives have been pulled and roses resorted to in order to secure invitations.

Miss Wilson's gown is heavy cream white satin, but in the Old lace which is a heirloom in the family of Mrs. Wilson will be used to trim it. It has been used for wedding gowns many times before.

WHAT'S INDIGESTION? WHO CARES? LISTEN!

"Pape's Diapepsin" Makes Sour, Gassy Stomachs Feel Fine At Once

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty cent can of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it, enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which doesn't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

As an evidence of this I call the public's attention to Mr. Curley's statement when making appeals for signatures in Roxbury and South Boston and published verbatim in the press.

WALSH ON NEW HAVEN GOVERNOR-ELECT GETS INFORMATION FROM ATTY. GEN. MCCREY-NOLDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Gov.-elect Walsh visited with Atty.-Gen. McCreynolds yesterday. He sought information about the New Haven railroad situation which he wishes to touch upon in his inaugural message. The attorney-general talked with the governor at length and told him much that is to be held as confidential for the present.

At luncheon this afternoon Governor Walsh was the guest of Secretary of State Bryan at the University club. Other members of the cabinet were present, including Messrs. McAdoo and Daniels. Others were Secretary Tamm, Secretary of State Donahue, who had called upon President Wilson earlier in the day, and Dr. Coughlin, the national committeeman. Lieut.-Gov.-elect Barry is expected here shortly.

Representative Peters had a talk yesterday with President Wilson, at which it is understood, the matter of a successor in the Interior Department, Commissioner Prouty was one of the topics. Mr. Peters returned to Boston this afternoon, and will shortly bring his family here, having leased a house on Twenty-first street.

MRS. SHACKFORD INDICTED Woman Who Confessed Part in Killing of Husband to Face First Degree Murder Charge

FREEDMAN, N. H., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Mary L. Shackford, wife of Edwin A. Shackford, the Freedman farmer who was shot to death while asleep in his home on the night of Sept. 19, was yesterday indicted by the Carroll county grand jury of murder in the first degree.

Mrs. Shackford at first added considerable mystery to the case by reciting a thrilling story of a robbery and murder by masked men, who chloroformed her before killing her husband. An investigation by a detective proved the fallacy of her story and after a 20-hour grilling by Sheriff Chandler and deputies she confessed to her part in the crime.

Five days later, when arraigned before Judge Gage at this place, Sept. 26, she repudiated her confession by pleading not guilty.

Wilbur Bean of Snowville, who was mentioned by Mrs. Shackford in her confession as an accomplice, was indicted on a statutory charge.

An indictment for arson was returned against John Burke of Hillsdale avenue, Roxbury. He is charged with the burning of buildings near the estate of Thomas Plant on Mt. Ossipee last June.

Victor R. Smith of Sandwich was indicted for aggravated assault, as were Harold Day, Frank O. Perrin and Walter Milton of Centre Ossipee.

MCCARTHY WINS OUT Defeated McCormack in Second Game—Rubber Match to be Rolled Next Wednesday

The second game between McCarthy and McCormack last night resulted in a win for McCarthy. Last night's roll resulted in much lower figures than those set up at the first meeting between the pair which McCormack won. The rubber match will be rolled off Wednesday night. The scores: McCarthy: 54, 93, 55, 91, 102, 54, 102, 103, 102, 102. Total 995. McCormack: 58, 59, 94, 100, 93, 94, 95, 106, 120, 95. Total 958.

NEW BOSTON THEATRE BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Charles Frohman arrived in Boston last night to make his annual visit to this city. He says he proposes to remain every month in Boston in the interests of his theatres. "I am expecting to have a small theatre here in which I can give a number of short plays each evening, acted by a permanent company," says Mr. Frohman.

GRAINTREE, Nov. 12.—After wandering for 10 days in the woods, homeless and friendless, driven almost to distraction beneath the weight of a great sorrow, nearly starved and suffering from exposure, Avena Frances, a pretty 25-year-old immigrant girl, is in the town almshouse. She was found late Tuesday night by the police, cuddled up, shivering with cold, in an abandoned farmhouse on the outskirts of South Braintree.

Retrayed by the man she thought was her sweetheart, driven from the little room she called home, burdened with the greatest trial of womanhood, unfamiliar with the language or customs of the country, the girl preferred the life of a primitive savage to facing the world or returning to her native land in shame.

The girl was found late last night by Police Officer John T. Shea, his attention having been called to her by residents of South Braintree who had seen the woman in the vicinity of their homes, where she approached little children on their way to school to beg bread.

Officer Shea commenced a search for the woman, supposing it was some deranged person. Shortly after 11 last night he found her in a henhouse. She was in a terrible state from exposure, worry, starvation and fright. He had her taken to the Bridgewater home, the local almshouse. Here a physician found the woman in a delicate state of health, and this, added to the suffering she had undergone during her 10 days of wandering, made her case appear serious.

Officer Shea investigated the girl's story, and last night Angelo Lee, 22, was arrested, charged with being responsible for the girl's condition. Late last night he was admitted to bail.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

For years there has been a well concerted movement to educate the public to the advantages of doing Christmas shopping early and the arguments this year are even stronger than usual. During the Christmas season the store employees are very much overworked, and in order to cater to the happiness of others they are compelled to put in long hours in monotonous and fatiguing service. The storekeepers cannot remedy conditions for they are compelled to suit the convenience of the public, and while the public demands open stores and long hours it is not sound policy to go against their wishes. The great field for improvement, then, is in educating the people to do their Christmas shopping early and not wait until the last minute when the stores will be overcrowded and there is all manner of inconvenience.

The recent juvenile law and the law regulating the hours of labor also make for conditions which necessitate early Christmas shopping this year. During former Christmas seasons hundreds of young men and young women were taken in as supplementary working force, but most of these cannot now be legally employed. All must wait for compliance with the law, despite its apparent inconvenience and it is for the public to conform themselves to new conditions and help the storekeeper out in his new problem by their shopping now. No one need fear that the Christmas season will become less picturesque as a result, for the attractive windows will prove a temptation too strong to resist later on when all manner of beautiful things peep at us through their garlands of holly. Prices now are somewhat lower than they will be a month hence, and the wise citizen will need no stronger argument than this for doing their Christmas shopping early. As the Boston Herald says: "The time to do early Christmas shopping is not to do it 'early' but to do it now."

One of the questions referred to the citizens of Fall River at the recent elections was the advisability of establishing a public market in that city, and the citizens approved of it by a large majority. The establishment of it, therefore, becomes one of the vital considerations there at present, and many suggestions have come from press and public as to the best course to pursue so that the plan may be tried out intelligently. It is admitted by most people that some external organization or commission should take the responsibility for the primary steps as such a market is intended to reduce the cost of living and should be planned with an eye solely to this end. Speaking editorially of it the Fall River Herald says:

"The institution should be able to support itself. It should not become a burden on the taxpayers, because if it should it would defeat its own purpose. To be self-supporting it must be efficiently managed. It will not do for the city to provide the market, throw open the doors and invite those who wish to do business there to move right in and set up their stands without restriction. Such a scheme would fail pretty quick. The only chance that the municipal market has of being a success lies in orderly management and intelligent supervision."

Lowell will watch the Fall River experiment and its effect on the people there with interest, for the public market idea has received strong support from our citizens and sooner or later we may do as Fall River is about to do.

WAGES AND FREIGHT RATES

The Erdman arbitration committee which has been considering the claims of the trainmen on the eastern railroads has decided that they were entitled to an increase of 7 per cent. in their wages. This does not reach the figure demanded by the men but it is more than the railroads were at first willing to pay. In individual cases it may seem like a negligible sum, but it is estimated that the increase will cost the eastern railroads about $10,000,000 more for wages annually.

For a long time the railroads of this section and in fact in all parts of the country have been petitioning for permission to raise their rates to meet the growing demands. The new increase of $10,000,000 is not likely to make them cease their insistent petitioning. Their income of railroads is now pretty clearly established and it does not increase in leaps and bounds as does their outlay. They may expect some of the increasing demands made on them by efficient management, but no sooner is some more taken which counts for economy than up comes another demand from some section or other for an increase in modern equipment, or repairs. The problem becomes more serious yearly for it is clear that there must be a limit in expenditures over which the railroads cannot go and still run at a profit. We are getting dangerously near that limit. The plight of the railroads was recognized by the Erdman committee, for when recommending the increase of 7 per cent. it suggested that the roads be given the requested permission to raise their freight rates.

ENCOURAGE READING

This is the season when the cold weather keeps boys and girls off the streets after school hours, and many of them find a great deal of time on their hands which the parents wish to see put to the best advantage. Part of this time should be put to the study of school lessons and definite subjects but there will still remain an opportunity to cultivate the habit of wise reading. Old fashioned people look upon time spent over books as wasted unless the book be of a dry or academic nature, but even the reading of novels may be made constructive to the instruction and education of the young. Fiction should be selected with discrimination but to an imaginative mind there are thousands of good books that will teach history, geography and kindred subjects while instructing and refining the mind and intellect of the reader. Our city library gives to all an opportunity for wise and wide reading and the parents and teachers of the city should urge our young people to avail themselves of the advantages offered there so abundantly.

MR. MELLE'S REVELATIONS

There may be a great deal of truth in the assertions of Mr. Mellen that there was a concerted financial movement back of the opposition to his conduct of the New Haven railroad, but his revelations come too late to be of much practical value. If it is a fact that, were it not for this opposition, fomented by Boston bankers, he could have maintained the 5 per cent. dividend on New Haven stock, the stockholders will marvel much that he did not attend to their interests by fighting the alleged clique openly before he was forced from the management of New Haven affairs by public opinion. Discussion of what is now ancient history will do little good, though it is sometimes undoubtedly necessary, but still there will be great public curiosity to see how time justifies the claims of Mr. Mellen. It will take more than his mere assertion to remove from him the degree of personal responsibility for the muddled affairs of the New Haven railroad with which he was publicly saddled.

THE SCHOOL APPROPRIATION

The municipal council did the right thing in meeting an emergency yesterday, when at the special meeting called for the purpose, it voted $71,000 for the schools of the city. It was the proper course to pursue. The schools are one of the first considerations, and though sometimes there may be difficulty in adequately attending to their financial upkeep, there should never be possibility of their being closed for lack of money. In the neighboring city of Lawrence during the industrial stagnation following the disastrous strike, teachers in the schools as well as employees in many of the municipal departments were obliged to work for some time without getting paid. They were paid in full eventually but not until the city got an unenviable reputation. Lowell has avoided any such unpleasant notoriety and the members of the municipal council who voted the appropriation acted with a promptness equal to their prudence.

MRS. PANKHURST'S MISSION

The arson squad and the bomb squad of the militant suffragettes are again committing outrages in England presumably with money collected by Mrs. Pankhurst in this country. Yet a local paper has said that she has asked a right to come here to collect money as has John E. Redmond. The comparison is odious.

Mrs. Pankhurst, a convicted felon, comes to collect money which it is fair to presume, will be used for the destruction of public and private property and in harassing the government of a friendly nation. Mr. Redmond, one of the foremost statesmen in Europe, came to solicit funds to be used in aid of a constitutional movement for the liberty of a people. Although some people cannot see it, there is quite a difference.

A CONSUMPTIVE COUGH

A cough that bothers you continually is one of the danger signals which nature gives to warn you of disease. It is the first step toward the cure of consumption. Dr. King's New Discovery cures the cough, loosens the chest, soothes the throat and gives you sleep peacefully. The first dose checks the cough and gives prompt relief. Dr. J. E. King, of New York, writes: "I have cured a stubborn cough after many doctors had failed to help. My wife is now well and happy. I can say for you that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for the cough, cold, croup, and all lung troubles. Buy a bottle if it is not too late. Dr. J. E. CHILD LABOR LAW

Speaker Fears Industry Will be Driven From the State

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—Arguments against the child labor law and predictions that such legislation will drive industry from the state were made yesterday by several members-elect of the general court before the recess commences of the house of representatives which is making a general investigation into the conditions surrounding employment of women and children. Senator Clarence W. Hobbs of Worcester contended that the majority of children less than 16 years of age are physically capable of engaging in light work. He suggested that an actual physical examination by quasi-public officials, rather than by family physicians, would be more effective in keeping out of employment children who would be thereby injured, than is the present age limit law. He declared that the eight-hour limit on the employment of children less than 16 years of age should be removed and that the public physician should determine the fitness of every child to work, and the hours of employment as well as the nature thereof. When asked if the tendency of the times is not toward an eight-hour law, Senator Hobbs replied: "We have given it to public employees, and everywhere we see the inevitable result in the increasing death of the commonwealth and of the child. It may be permissible to do anything in this sort of case of public employees, because it is contended with some force that the commonwealth should be an ideal employer."

"When you apply the same idea to industry you strike an entirely different proposition, because industry cannot and will not stand it. The commonwealth must stay and the people must bear whatever burdens in the way of taxation are placed upon them; but industry can leave us, and just as soon as we make the burdens too severe it will do so."

Representative Benjamin F. Haines said it was apparent that the sort of case of public employees, because it is contended with some force that the commonwealth should be an ideal employer.

Representative George W. Paulkner of Hingham declared the judge of the local court recently told him that this fall there was an increase in the number of boys in court for misdemeanors, and that he found the cause almost invariably had been the new child labor law.

What is needed, according to Mr. Paulkner, is a law which will keep out of employment the under developed boy of 16 or 17, and permit the employment of the full-grown boy of 18.

Clifford Sherman, secretary of the overseer of the poor in New Bedford, said the new law has forced 35 or 40 families there to apply for public aid. Another result, according to Representative-elect John Halliwell of the same city, is the complete demoralization of many mill departments.

"In many mills the minors less than 16 years of age who have been retained," he said, "are paid the same for 15 hours of work as they were formerly paid for 54, and this leads to dissatisfaction among the employers who are still required to work 54 hours."

"The owners are getting rid of minors less than 16 years of age as fast as they can find others to take their places because it means added expense to keep the younger boys at work. The immediate result is that the older boys have found the mills can not get along without them and they do their work as they please."

Other senators and representatives are expected to appear before the hearing of the committee at the state house today.

A DOUBLE LIFE

Dog Bite Gives Mother of Eleven Clue to Husband's Whereabouts

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Mary E. Carroll, wife of Kerman F. Carroll, was interested when her 10-year-old daughter Anna returned from the parochial school at Eighty-fourth street and Park avenue and said:

"Mother, the teachers all wanted to know about your being bitten by a dog in Flushing," and she showed her mother a clipping which gave an account of the biting of Mrs. K. F. Carroll of 28 Burling avenue, Flushing.

Mrs. Carroll is the mother of 11 children, seven of whom are living and make their home with their mother at 110 East Eighty-sixth street.

Carroll, the father and husband, is associated with the firm of Fiss, Doer & Carroll, horse dealers, and a brother of the late Joseph D. Carroll, the horseman who died more than a year ago, leaving a large fortune. Kerman F. Carroll inherited the income on $50,000 from his brother.

Kerman F. Carroll and his wife have not been living together for several years, and Mrs. Carroll at once wanted to know who the Mrs. K. F. Carroll was who had been attacked by the dog.

"Some one is using my name without authority or legal right," she said to a reporter last night. "There is no other Mrs. K. F. Carroll in New York. My husband and I, while not living together, are not divorced and we share his name. This is the second time I have had my attention drawn to the fact that another woman is using the name Mrs. K. F. Carroll. Last summer, I read in the papers where Sarah, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Carroll, had been saved from drowning. The story of the dog bite, however, has given me the first direct clue to my husband's place of residence."

"From the investigation I have just made I find that my husband is living at 28 Burling place, Flushing. There are three sisters—Jessie, Bertha and Sarah Bloomfield—living in the same house, but I am unable to learn who the woman is who calls herself Mrs. K. F. Carroll. I propose now, however, to go to the bottom of this."

Carroll, a large man of 55, is a deputy sheriff under Harbinger, and is well known in the business world. Seen last night at No. 28 Burling place, and asked regarding the Mrs. K. F. Carroll, whose address was given as a house following the attack by the dog, he refused to give any information.

STRIKE LEADER

Jas. Larkin Liberated From Prison at Dublin, Today

DUBLIN, Ireland, Nov. 13.—James Larkin, leader of the transport workers' union, whose members have been on strike since early in September was liberated today from Mount Joy prison where he was serving a sentence of seven months for sedition. Larkin subsequently appeared at the labor headquarters in Liberty hall and the occasion was seized upon by his followers to make a remarkable demonstration of their devotion to him.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The release of James Larkin from prison in Dublin today has far from satisfied the labor world of the British Isles. It seems still further to have intensified the determination of the trade unionists to fight the labor dispute in Dublin to a finish.

An emergency meeting of the trades union parliamentary committee has been summoned for Nov. 13 when a general stoppage of work in the United Kingdom will be considered.

Robert Williams, general secretary of the transport workers union, said this afternoon:

"It must not be assumed that the release of James Larkin is the sum total of our demands. We are going for a still greater triumph in Dublin. The government must cease to act in collusion with the employers by giving facilities for importing 'cheap labor'."

Mr. Williams intimated he had no doubt that unless the employers gave way before Tuesday next the trades

QUESTION OF LABOR

ON FOR DISCUSSION AT TODAY'S SESSION OF THE A. F. OF L. CONVENTION

SEATTLE, Washington, Nov. 13.—The American Federation of Labor having cleared away all preliminaries was ready today to take up discussion of the big questions of labor and reports of the committees. Among the resolutions offered yesterday was one by Dominick Alessandro, national president of the Iliad Carriers' union, calling for revocation of the charter of the Brotherhood of cement workers.

It is alleged that the brotherhood has refused to surrender jurisdiction over the cement and concrete laborers as ordered by the Rochester convention.

Steps will be taken by the federation to organize federal employees into unions affiliated with the federation. Arrangements are being made to send organizers among the men. Today was the last on which resolutions may be introduced. Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, who addressed the convention yesterday left today for Washington by way of Portland and San Francisco.

MAY SETTLE DOCK STRIKE
PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 13.—Representatives of the longshoremen's union and the agents of the steamship line way before Tuesday next the trades

last night which may result in the settlement of the strike now on in this city. No official statement was given out, but it is understood that the men were offered a compromise and that the proposition will be submitted to the union at a meeting Thursday evening.

Some of the men who quit work Monday on the ship steamer Appanito returned to work yesterday. They were not members of the union, but had been induced to join the strike.

The Harvard team will probably spend the night before the Harvard-Yale game at the Vesper Country club on Tyngs Island. The larger college elevens are always taken away for at least one day before a big contest, the coaches wanting them to keep their minds off the coming contest as much as possible. The local club has a high honor conferred upon it when the Crimson spends the night before the Yale game at Tyngs Island.

Mitchell's Boys' school was no match for the Lowell high second team yesterday afternoon when the two teams met on the Billerica school's campus. The high school subs put over the only touchdown of the game, but failed to kick the goal.

There are several really good players on the high school's list of subs. Lynch, although very light, is a good back and is liable to make them all huddle when he takes on a little more weight. Potter, Libber, Grosland and Barton also played hard football yesterday and will bear watching.

Lawrence high received a setback yesterday when the Commerce high team of Boston trampled upon them for a 7 to 3 defeat. Commerce is fairly strong but not really a top notch team. The showing of Lawrence yesterday was not up to expectations, although Higgins' field goal was a beauty. Higgins was sent into the game for one play and hooted the ball over with ease. It is a cliché he will be watched very carefully by the local schoolboys on Thanksgiving day.

Dartmouth wound up her Hanover football season yesterday afternoon. After the last practice of the year the team gathered around the dummy, which has been tackled so hard and often this season by the Green warriors, and the entire college gathered around their eleven. This annual custom is a very imposing scene and is always carried out, rain or shine. The Dartmouth team left this morning for New York where they meet the Indians on Saturday. Over a thousand students turned out at five o'clock this morning and accompanied the team to the train with brass bands.

Ernest Nelson, the former Bunting soccer star and probably one of the greatest exponents of the game ever known in this city, will endeavor to perform a come back stunt next Saturday in the game between the Excelsior and Wamette teams. Nelson will be seen in an Excelsior uniform and a great many will turn out to watch the former star in action.

Waltham high certainly treats her football team royally. The eleven will leave for Portland in a special train reserved for the players and their attendants and will enjoy the best in every line. The Watch City team looks like a sure winner over their Maine opponents.

The Yale undergraduates gave their team a great sendoff when they left for Princeton today. The spirit at New Haven is not broken by any means after the poor showing that the 123 eleven has made this season. Yale men look for a victory over the Tigers but the betting favors Princeton. On paper the Tigers are a better aggregation in every way.

The Brown team is playing the best football it has displayed this season, although that is not saying a great deal. Harvard should have no trouble in winning by a substantial score Saturday although it is certain that none of the plays being prepared for the Yale game will be uncovered in this contest. Coach Haughton will doubtless use but little variety in his plays next Saturday.

Francis Oulmet, the noted young golfer, was entertained by the Lawrence Country club yesterday and given a royal reception. Mayor Scanlon made a short speech of welcome and the golfer was cheered to the echo after his response.

"Tacks" Hardwick, the Harvard all-around athlete, broke his own strength record yesterday in the annual tests. Hardwick is looked upon by Dr. Sargent as one of the most perfectly built men who ever came under his observation, and not many athletes have escaped it.

The lists for the entries in the big intercollegiate cross country run on Nov. 22 have been made public. Thirteen colleges will compete this year. Fear will enter their crack middle distance performer, Meredith and his cross-country work will be followed with interest by the professional trainers. That Meredith is a wonderful quarter-mile runner there is no doubt but what he can do over the long cross-country course is not known.

CAPTAIN OF EXETER

EXETER, N. H., Nov. 13.—Edward L. Casey of Natick, Mass., was yesterday elected captain of the Phillips Exeter academy football eleven for next year. Casey is a product of Natick high school, having been a member of the eleven which won distinction as being one of the fastest high school elevens ever developed in Massachusetts, and which won the Midland Intercollegiate league championship in 1911. Last year he played quarterback for Exeter. The position was new to him, yet he performed in a very creditable manner. Last Saturday, as a halfback with Erwig and Bingham, he literally tore the Andover line into ribbons.

Casey is the third boy from Natick to become a wonderful football player. He and William F. Murray, who captained and defeated Andover eleven, played on the same team at Natick high, and both followed in the footsteps of Eddie Mahan, the now Harvard player, who obtained first knowledge of the gridiron game while at Natick high, and later went to Andover.

Although six of his team mates will not be available next year, Captain Casey should be able to assemble a powerful eleven in 1914.

KILBANE-ATTELL MATCH

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Nov. 13.—Abe Attell, formerly featherweight champion of the world, received word yesterday from his manager, H. H. Moynihan, in New York, that he had been matched with Johnny Kilbane, the present featherweight champion. The bout will take place on Washington's birthday in California. Attell says he will go west at once to train.

FAST GAME AT Y. M. C. A.

Monhegan lost to Iroquois in Close Contest on the Alloys—Dow Was High Man

The Iroquois rollers won their match from the Monhegans last night at the Y. M. C. A. alloys in one of the closest games of the season by the score of 1345 to 1321. The last string decided the contest as the Monhegans were three pins to the good after the second string had been rolled. Dow was high man both in totals and singles, running up 237 and a single of 110. The summary:

IROQUOIS
Grant	92	85	265
Wrenn	84	89	263
Dow	119	83	262
Seale	91	96	267

Wilson	97	87	262
Pearson	95	88	271
Totals	451	443	1321

The Tremont and Suffolk bowlers went to Nashua last evening and took the fast quiver of that city into camp by the score 1470 to 1403. The match was one of the best bowled affairs ever seen in Nashua and drew a large crowd to the alloys.

Perrin scored the high total of the evening with 311. His teammate, Whalen, was high single string man with a mark of 112. The lineup and summary of the match:

NASHUA
Williams	93	114	107

FOOTBALL STARS WHO HAVE MADE GRIDIRON SHARPS TAKE NOTICE

Two of the hitherto unknown players that have sprung into football fame this season are Ghee, the quarterback of the Dartmouth college eleven, and Lookaround, the snappy Carlisle Indian line player. Lookaround is a descendant of a Sioux chieftain and is a remarkably fast runner. Ghee's quarterback work is largely responsible for the wonderful showing made by his team this year, which includes victories over Pennsylvania and Princeton.

WOOD OUTPOINTS YOUNG LOWELL TEAM WINS

FALL RIVER BOXER HAS ALL THE BETTER OF TWO FAST ROUTS IN AUGUSTA, ME.

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 13.—Bay Wood of Fall River, in two six-round bouts carried the fight to Tiger Young of Hot Springs all the time last night before nearly 1000 in city hall.

Young, although displaying remarkable endurance, and at times clever foot work, got in few well-directed blows. He was unable to break Wood's guard, and the latter so rapidly forced the fighting that Young had little time to recover. In the first round, which was terrific, Wood brought the claret to Young's left eye. Young was knocked down in the fifth round of the second bout.

Kid Babar was sent into dreamland soon after being introduced to Kid Denis of Waterville. Only three blows were struck. George Gilbert and Bobby Gaudin divided honors in a six-round bout.

Soccer football. Saturday afternoon is the day of the great game between the two Old Fellows' teams, the Excelsior Wamette and Merrimack Unity lodges on the Rutland grounds. It is expected that a large number of spectators will be on hand, including a number of the women folks.

The rivalry is great between the two lodges. The game will start at 2:15 p. m. sharp. The players are requested to be on the field by 2 p. m. The Excelsior team will be selected from the following members: Ed. Hanson, Geo. Camp, R. Hollingsworth, F. Partington, P. Carman, W. Odell, J. Whiteside, E. Nelson, Ben Ingham, J. Bowditch, Ramsbottom, Thos. Odell, W. Pomfret, J. Howarth, Linesman, Thos. Robinson. The game will be refereed by Mr. Will Taylor, a man who has had long career in football in the Fall River district.

FEAR CREW LOST

No Trace of the Steam Butters Out from Fort William, Ontario

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Nov. 13.—Fears were entertained yesterday that the steam barge Butters and her crew of 20 have been lost between here and a point on the South shore, 150 miles from here, where she was to have taken on a cargo of lumber.

The Butters left here last Thursday, but was forced to put back on account of the heavy sea. She put out again Friday afternoon in a heavy gale.

According to custom, the captain of the Butters should have wired the owners here not later than last Monday. A search was begun for the craft yesterday.

The Butters is one of the old-timers on the upper lakes. She is of wood, in construction, 200 feet long, and has a capacity of 700,000 feet of lumber.

BASEBALL MEN JOHNSON'S GREAT RECORD

24 Leagues Represented at Columbus, Ohio., Meeting

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—Never before have baseball leagues in general had such representation at a minor league meeting. Major league magnates and managers, anxious to bolster up weak spots in their teams, are showing more interest in this meeting than they do at the meetings of their own leagues.

What action will be taken by the convention on the demands of the Players' fraternity was still a matter of conjecture here. Some owners, who attended the opening session of the convention yesterday, were of the opinion that the demands would be referred to a committee if they made their appearance on the floor of the convention, while others expressed the belief that the demands would not be presented.

Twenty-four leagues out of 43 holding membership in the association were represented at the meeting. When delegations snowbound at Cleveland arrive it is thought that 30 baseball organizations will be credited with voting power.

Gov. Cox of Ohio and Gov. Hooper of Tennessee were the central figures at the afternoon session. Ohio's executive welcomed the delegates to Ohio, and Tennessee's governor reminded them that Nashville wants the next convention. President M. H. Sexton of the national association presided. The roll-call showed one or more delegates present from the following leagues:

American Association, International, Pacific Coast, Western, Southern Association, Texas, Central, New England, New York State, Three I, North-western, South Atlantic, Virginia, Wisconsin-Illinois, Southern Michigan, Central Association, Ohio State, Illinois-Missouri, North Carolina, Michigan State, K. I. T., Nebraska California State.

Sessions of the national board, which has 167 cases to hear, have begun and it is thought the docket can be cleared by Thursday night.

It was decided by the board that all clubs of the Central league shall post $2000 each that organization's president on or before Jan. 15. The placing of this sum of money is to guarantee that each club will complete the baseball season.

Related arrivals were President Barrow of the International League, W. J. Clymer, manager of the Buffalo club; E. J. McCafferty of Syracuse and John H. Farrell, secretary of the National association. Mr. Farrell left Auburn, N. Y., on Sunday and arrived here on a Cleveland, Akron & Columbus train, the Sunday's storm.

Farrell submitted his annual report to the association. It set forth that the number of players drafted during the year from the minor leagues by the major leagues was 53, of which the National league drafted 45 and the American league 43. National Association clubs drafted 152. The total amount received for drafted players, including money refunded on National association drafts disallowed, was $227,250, distributed as follows: National league, $55,450; American league, $55,450; National Association, $116,350. Fifty-eight thousand eight hundred dollars was paid on optional agreements and $7900 was paid on drafted players returnable under the waiver rule.

MINOR LEAGUE Standing of Teams and Individual Averages

The Minor Bowling league is fast developing into a very interesting series of matches and the league records, although the season has barely begun, compare favorably with those of the older bowling organizations.

The Wamettes stand at the head of the league at present with a string of 1376 and a single string record of 473. The league is standing as well as the individual averages are as follows:

TEAM STANDING
Team	Won	Lost	P. C.
Dodgers	4	0	100.0
South Ends	4	0	100.0
Suparbas	4	0	100.0
Wamettes	3	1	75.0
Doughmans	3	2	60.0
Oregons	3	2	60.0
Marathons	3	2	60.0
Harry Shoe	3	2	60.0

Individual averages: Mason 95, O'Hair 97, Atkinson 97, Lane 82, Gill 94, Murphy 95, Green 82, Baxter 82, Early 91, McDonald 91, McDonald 91, Spanos 91, Shelby 82, Holmes 90, Donohoe 82, Welch 81, Underwood 82, Dow 81, H. One of the remarkable events of the season came to light Sept. 17. Please remember that date, gentlemen. Frank Chance lifted his Highlanders out of the last place then.

Pitcher Wyckoff of the Athletics passed 15 Red Sox batters on Sept. 24, but his batters hit as usual and won, 10 to 5. Finally the Giants and Phils staged a triple-header on Oct. 2. This does not occur more than once a century.

Among the number. The others were Fromme of the Giants (when he wore a Cincinnati uniform), Hamilton of the Browns (twice), Mitchell of Cleveland, Suggs of Cincy and Tyler of the Braves.

There were three triple plays during the season. One occurred April 23, Hendrix, Kelly and Miller of the Pirates worked it against the Cards. In the next month the Athletics got in three more. Nearly the entire one on the Naps. Nearly the entire Philadelphia squad participated. The cast included Barry, Baker, Thomas, Houck, Collins and Oldring. Maranville and Myers of the Braves staged one against the Reds on June 12.

Perhaps the first feature of the season was that of April 18, when the Giants nailed Tyler and Brown of the Braves for a total of 20 safe hits. Then on May 11, Walter Johnson of the Senators established a record of 56 scoreless innings.

Pitchers Chief Johnson, Harter and Smith of the Reds had a merry time on May 21, when the Phils slammed them for a total of 20 safe hits. May 22 was historic because Walter Johnson was beaten by Cleveland, 5 to 0, after coping 10 in a row.

Fred Falkenberg of the Naps tied Johnson's season mark of 10 straight, only to be whaled on June 9 by the Red Sox, 4 to 1. About this time the Athletics were showing their teeth and copped 15 straight games in the league until stopped June 11, by the humble Browns, 5 to 2. The Browns have always had an exasperating habit of cutting in when least expected.

Pitcher Alexander of the Phils had been going along nicely, setting up victory after victory until the Cubs stepped in and beat him, 13 to 3, on June 16 after he had 10 straight.

The 21st of June was interesting in that Jim Scott of the Sox whiffed 15 Browns, only to be beaten by Laverne, 2 to 0. The Sox got only two hits behind Scott.

Seven hits in a row of Pitchers Camnitz and Cooper of the Pirates in the record made by the Cubs on June 30. The Cubs also figured in the feature column July 10, when they checked the Giants rush, 3 to 2. Up to that point McGraw's men had taken 14 in a row.

On the following day the Giants came back and nailed Pitchers Laverne, Pierce and Ritchie for 21 hits. The final count was 11 to 1.

You may remember Recruit Roaching of the Senators was cutting a wide swath about this period. In fact, he had beaten everybody until he struck the Browns, July 28. They copped that day, 4 to 1, but Roaching was able to show 11 straight. Aug. 23 Walter Johnson beat his mark three games, 13 to 0, in a straight before the Red Sox crushed him, 1 to 0, in 11 rounds. The crowd "crushed" is right.

Bedient, Hall and Anderson of the Red Sox will long remember Sept. 11. On that date the Tigers got 20 hits off their combined curves. Then on the very next day the Red Sox came back handsomely and hammered Pitchers Grover, Comstock and Lorenz of the Detroit for 21 bingles, the score being 18 to 1. Wow!

One of the remarkable events of the season came to light Sept. 17. Please remember that date, gentlemen. Frank Chance lifted his Highlanders out of the last place then.

TO CLEAN, OR NOT TO CLEAN

That is the question. Whether it is better to use antiquated ideas or modern cleaning machinery in the renovating of garments, has been tested fully in this establishment.

We do not infer that we of late years, have employed stale methods. We haven't; but being the oldest established cleaning and dyeing house here, naturally there was a time when we had to use the "ancients."

But now, what a change! A modernized plant, equal in any emergency. Such is progress!

THE ADDITION TO THE GREENHALGE SCHOOL SOON TO BE COMPLETED.

It was stated today at the office of Commissioner Cummings that work on the addition to the Greenhalge school is rapidly progressing. The extension is to be 100 feet long by 25 feet wide and will be built along the side of the old building and will contain six classrooms, a workshop, a gymnasium and other rooms. Work was begun on the addition in August, the contract having been let on August 5. The contract calls for the completion of the work by February 14 of next year. The building must be ready for occupancy at that time. The municipal council appropriated $35,000 for the extension of the school. The general contract was awarded to Daniel H. Walker, the amount being $22,251. The plumbing contract went to John J. Gaffney & Co. for $560 and the heating contract to John A. Cotter for $658. Henry L. Bourke was the architect.

HE ESCAPES DEPORTATION IN COURTS 23 YEARS

ILLITERATE, UNDER 16, PARENTS NOT ALONE, BUT HE MAY LAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Malcolm Clifton Duncan, who has not yet achieved the art of speaking the American language, arrived yesterday by the White Star liner Olympic and was detained by the immigration boarding officers because he was under 16 years of age and was unaccompanied by either of his parents.

Under the law, if strictly enforced, Malcolm would have been compelled to go back to England. It took the inspectors nearly two hours to find that he was entitled to land. The chief reason is that he was in charge of his grandmother, who is a native American.

Malcolm's mother, who also is a native American, is the wife of Lieut. Duncan of the British army, and is with her husband. The grandmother recently went to England to bring Malcolm here, teach him the American tongue and the "Star Spangled Banner." When these facts gradually sifted into the consciousness of the inspectors they released Malcolm in charge of his American grandmother, who was almost on the point of singing "God Save the King" when the decision was imparted to her.

The grandmother, who was waiting on the pier for a first glimpse of her grandchild, born in England eighteen months ago, said it would be a cruel shame to send so handsome a boy back to England before he had seen his grandfather.

LOSS OF STEAMER CONFIRMED
CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 12.—The loss in Lake Huron of the steamer John A. McGowan, operated by the Hutchinson S. S. Co. here, was confirmed by officials of the company today. It is believed that Capt. C. R. Ney and all of the crew of 25 men were drowned. The company has received despatches from Guelph, Ont., saying three bodies were washed ashore there.

PETITION OF GEORGE FRED WILLIAMS FROM DECREE OF PROBATE COURT DENIED

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 13.—The petition of George Fred Williams of Dedham, Mass., recently nominated as minister to Greece, from the decree of the probate court of Pawtucket dismissing him as executor of the will of Amy Starkweather, was denied by Presiding Justice Tanner of the superior court today. The case has been before the courts of Rhode Island for about 23 years. Williams was adjudged guilty of unfaithful administration in an action brought by Joseph U. Starkweather, administrator of the estate, who alleges that Williams as an executor under the will of his mother, distributed the estate left her by his father among her people instead of turning it over to the children, as provided in the father's will. In February, 1900, Williams was ordered to return the property and ten years later he was adjudged in contempt of court if he did not return $2500 with its interest.

The probate court of Pawtucket then dismissed him as executor of the estate. It is expected he will carry his appeal from Justice Tanner's decision to the supreme court.

Minor's tonight. At Associate.

THE NATIONAL GRANGE

LOWELL WAS WELL REPRESENTED AT MANCHESTER TODAY—CONSIDERABLE DEGREE WORK

A number of grangers from this city and the surrounding towns left here this morning for Manchester where they will attend the second day's session of the National Grange. When the meeting convened yesterday morning 39 states were represented, a large number of delegates and members from Massachusetts being present.

At 12.30 o'clock today there will be the exemplification of the sixth and seventh degrees. This afternoon the second and third exemplification of the seventh degree will take place and this evening the second exemplification of the sixth degree will be held. The local members plan to be present at the conferring of all the degrees. The business session will not be opened until tomorrow morning.

MURDER TRIAL POSTPONED
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 13.—The trial of Arthur Mack, charged with beating his wife to death on October 21, was postponed from today until November 19. The state desires to await the decision of the coroner, who is holding an inquiry.

O'Neil-Crowley, 548, Fri. night, A. O. H. MATRIMONIAL.

Mr. J. Russell Harrington and Miss Edith L. Sullivan were married at 5.20 o'clock last evening in the rectory of St. Columba's church. The pastor of that parish, Rev. John A. Degan, performed the ceremony. Miss Vera F.

Sullivan assisted her sister as bride-maid, while a brother of the groom, William Harrington, was best man. When Father Degan had pronounced the last words of the ceremony the young couple and their attendants repaired to the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sullivan, on 165 Crawford street, where they were welcomed by their relatives and immediate friends, and a wedding supper was served.

Included among those who were present to wish happiness to the young couple were His Honor, Mayor James E. O'Donnell, Rev. D. A. Sullivan of the Oblate fathers, and Daniel J. Murphy. Miss Sullivan was gowned in white with a veil, and carried a beautiful bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Vera F. Sullivan, the bride-maid, was attired in pink broadened silk and carried roses.

Leaving on the 2.55 express, the happy couple started for New York where after a stay of some time in that city they will pass their honeymoon in Philadelphia and Washington. On their return they will be at home to their large circle of friends at 186 Pine street.

Their future home will be beautified by the large number of rare and costly presents which came to the young couple from near and far.

Mr. Harrington is widely known in the social and business circles of this city. Several years ago he was the commander of the O. M. L. Cadets. After his graduation from high school, he entered the employment of the Boston & Northern Street Railway company, in which organization he has gradually advanced until he now holds the position of cashier of this division of that corporation.

DANCE—CONWAY
The rectory of the Church of the Sacred Heart was the scene of a very pretty wedding last evening when John T. Dancause, senior collector of the Caesar Misch store and Miss Catherine Conway, daughter of Mr. George Conway, were married by Rev. James T. McDermott, O. M. L. The best man was Mr. Charles Dancause, the bridegroom's brother, and the bride-maid was Miss Anna Leary.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 22 Congress avenue, following the ceremony, and the house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with autumn foliage, potted plants and cut flowers. The table was lighted by three large candleabra with shades of yellow material. The bridal party received in an adjoining room under a large floral bell.

During the evening music was enjoyed with Miss Anna Leary presiding at the piano, and Mr. Horace Lemay rendered vocal selections.

The happy couple departed on a honeymoon trip on the 3.25 train and will be at home to friends at 22 Congress avenue after Jan. 1.

Among the out-of-town guests present were the following: Miss Jennie McIntosh of Fort William, Ont.; Mr. T. A. Stapleton of Norwood, Mass.; and Mr. Charles Dancause of Manchester, N. H.

The wedding presents were both numerous and beautiful and among them was a quartered oak writing desk and a book case from the Caesar Misch store.

SMITH—RAWLINSON
Miss Elizabeth Weir Leatham Raw-

linson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Rawlinson of 165 Pawtucket street, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Standley Smith at half past six o'clock last evening at the home of her parents.

Rev. Geo. E. Martin of Lexington, formerly of the Kirk Street church of this city, performed the ceremony. Mr. Smith had for 11 years been a member of St. Anne's vested choir and 20 of the men and boys of that choir were present and rendered selections at his wedding. They sang the Lohengrin wedding music during a procession from the upper landing of the staircase to the room, which was to be the scene of the ceremony. Following the ceremony they rendered "O. Perfect Love."

charmeuse and duchess lace with a court train and veil, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Her maid of honor, Miss Ellen Briggs, wore a gown of pink charmeuse and pink chiffon and carried pink roses. Mr. Byron Smith, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. During the ceremony Miss Briggs' orchestra rendered in soft strains, "O. Promise Me."

GEMS HELD FOR CUSTOMS

Jewel Box Found in Trunk of Mrs. Dunlap, Wife of N. Y. Hat Manufacturer's Son

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—William Allen Dunlap, son of the hat manufacturer, and his wife, who was a maid in a girl when he was six years old after divorcing his first wife, were held up by special treasury agents yesterday after their arrival by the White Star liner Olympic. They were captured more severely and longer than any other voyagers who have arrived in recent years.

After the grilling, which took place in the lounge of the liner after nearly all the passengers had left the pier, both the treasury agents and Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap declined to say anything definite about the incident, but several trunks and a jewel case containing gems brought abroad were sent to the public stores.

It is said that the information which prompted the special treasury agents in charge of Howard D. Esterbrook, acting head of that branch of government sleuths at this port, was telegraphed from abroad.

One of Esterbrook's men found in one of Mrs. Dunlap's trunks a big jewel case filled with costly gems, including a necklace. The case was taken back to the Olympic with the owner and her husband.

The treasury agents roped off a place in the lounge room and Mr. Esterbrook took out one piece of jewelry after another and questioned Mrs. Dunlap as to where she had bought it. The questions were put sometimes in a tone that was rather loud and had in it a suspicion that the questioner

JAMES J. GALLAGHER

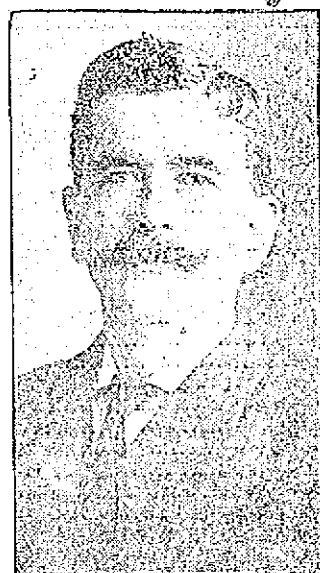

Formally Announces His Candidacy for

AT THE

Primaries, Tuesday,

Nov. 18

He will stand for a proper and fair distribution of the appropriations at the beginning of the year.

He will use every endeavor to borrow within the amount of city debt to be paid, thereby keeping down the fixed charges which impair the appropriations.

He will give all matters of business, serious, honest and earnest consideration.

He will stop the borrowing of money in the Water Department when there is sufficient revenue to properly maintain said department.

He will discuss the management of the Water Department in these columns daily, taking up, separately, the management of the department and methods of negotiating loans.

He will also enlighten the people on the discount in water rates. Watch this page and learn the real truth of the conduct and methods employed in the running of this department during the past two years and the remedies that can and should be properly applied.

HE WILL SPEAK TONIGHT AT LYON ST. WARD ROOM

doubted the accuracy of Mrs. Dunlap's answer.

Out Sharp answers, Too

The answers occasionally were as sharp as the questions.

The object of the inquiry apparently was to learn how much of the jewelry had been bought abroad. On the gems Mrs. Dunlap brought here from Europe Mrs. Dunlap or Mr. Dunlap has to pay a big sum in duty, if the special agents have the right information about the Dunlaps.

It was said that Mrs. Dunlap had made no effort to conceal the dutiable articles and that she had dispensed the right of the agents to search her, on the ground that she was a resident of a foreign country and entitled to bring in free of duty jewelry and goods bought on the other side.

It was more than two hours after they had landed that the Dunlaps and their little three-year-old daughter, Lavender, named for her mother, were permitted to leave the pier. Every other cabin passenger had been gone an hour or more.

Mr. Dunlap was very cool over his detention. He seemed inclined to think that the customs men had made a mistake. He complimented them for their courtesy, however.

It is likely that he and Mrs. Dunlap may appear at the custom house today and undergo more questioning. No customs official would admit that he knew anything about the case, which, all of them declared, was "up to the special treasury agents."

Must Prove Contentment

A customs man on the pier said he understood that the case of the Dunlaps hinged entirely upon the question whether or not they were residents of a foreign country.

Mrs. Dunlap, who was Miss Lavender Byles here, her marriage, was born in a suburb of London and came here when she was a little girl. She cannot claim non-residence merely because her folks are living on the other side, as she assumed the citizenship of her husband's country on her marriage.

Mrs. Dunlap's sister, Mrs. Lewson Johnston, lives in London and has been abroad about a year. He said he had come here to visit his mother. He told the special agents he was going to reside while in this neighborhood at the Garden City Estates.

The Dunlaps have had some disagreements in the last few years, but patched them up and seemed yesterday to be on very good terms. Mrs. Dunlap has taken a liking to her neighbors and in her last sky trip with George, last February she was badly frightened in a dangerous glide made necessary by the freezing of the gasoline in an airtight upper current. Since then she has not gone skyward.

GIRL LEAPS TO DEATH

FEARING FAILURE OF EXAMINATIONS SHE JUMPS FROM ROOF OF FIVE STORY BUILDING

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Fearing she would not pass examinations for promotion Anna Burnett, a teacher in the primary grade at public school 15, The Bronx, committed suicide by jumping five stories to the street from the roof of her home shortly after 8 o'clock last night.

Mrs. Burnett, who was 24 years old, lived with her parents at 523 West 156th street. After supper she put on her coat and said she was going to the drug store. A few minutes later her body struck an iron picket fence in front of the house, broke out several pickets and rolled into the area-way.

Martin Kennedy of 1951 Amsterdam avenue, who was walking past the house, was less than five feet from where the body struck. He ran to the Roman Catholic church of St. Catharine of Genoa, in 153d street, and summoned Fr. Clark to administer the last rites.

James Burnett, the young woman's father, was prostrated. He said she had been sitting up late nights studying. He believed she was afraid the examination in mathematics would be too hard for her.

TOWN OF BILLERICA

Fine Program for Annual Entertainment of Billerica Improvement Association

The Billerica Improvement association will hold its annual meeting and entertainment in the Billerica town hall Friday night and it is expected that a large number of the townspeople will be present. The program will include speaking by several well known men who are interested in the improvement of the town and a lecture by Prof. Frank A. Waugh of Amherst. There will also be motion pictures and stereopticon views of gardens and residences that were taken during the summer months. Prizes will be awarded to those who have kept their premises and gardens in the best condition throughout the past summer.

"RED" CABLE NOT NEEDED

HUNDREDS DEAD IN EARTHQUAKE

Tremblings Continue at Peru and Many Small Towns in Ruins

Survivors are Living in Tents and Are Suffering Great Privations

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 13.—One hundred and twenty persons are known to have been killed, hundreds of others are believed to have succumbed and 19 small towns in the mountainous Peruvian province of Ayacucho, near the Bolivian frontier, were destroyed by an earthquake last Friday, reports of which have reached the authorities here by courier.

The survivors are living in the open spaces and are suffering great privations owing to lack of food and shelter. The government yesterday forwarded a large quantity of provisions and has appropriated funds for relief.

Official telegrams report a continuance of the earthquake in the province of Ayacucho, in the department of Apurimac. The city of Chalhuanca, with a population of nearly 5,000, capital of the province, is reported to be in ruins.

Apurimac is a southwestern department of Peru, with a population of nearly 200,000. It is composed of the provinces of Abancay, Ayacucho, Arequipa, and a portion of Ayacucho.

SEVERAL MINOR FIRES

EXTINGUISHED BY DEPARTMENT LAST EVENING—GARAGE WAS BURNED

Several fire alarms were rung in last night, the most serious fire being that in the garage of Mr. Chalfoux at 244 Cumberland road between 5 and 6 o'clock. Mr. Chalfoux's auto was in the garage at the time of the fire and was badly burned, although not wholly destroyed by the flames. Box 165 was promptly rung in and the firemen as promptly responded but the fire had gotten too much start and the garage was totally destroyed.

Hose 12 responded to a still alarm at 5:05 o'clock at the residence of A. S. Hall on Hildreth street. A bonfire in the rear of the house had gotten beyond control of those who set it and the building was threatened. The flames were quickly extinguished by the apparatus.

Box 215 was sounded shortly after 6 o'clock for a dump fire on the old fair grounds on Gorham street, but no damage was done before the firemen arrived and took control of the situation.

SAYS JOE: HERE'S YOUR LETTERS

Says Jim Ham: Thanks—They Were "Laying 'Round"—Cautioned Not to be so Careless WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Senator J. Ham Lewis of Illinois called on Secretary Joseph P. Tumulty yesterday. After talking several minutes at the secretary's desk Senator Lewis started toward the door.

"Senator," called Tumulty, "haven't you forgotten something?"

Then Tumulty picked up a bunch of letters which J. Ham had left lying on his desk.

"You should not be so careless with your correspondence," said the secretary, his eye twinkling, and J. Ham thanked him profusely.

NEW LETTER BOXES

Supply Expected to Reach This City About Dec. 31—Will be Installed Immediately

Word has been received at the local postoffice that a supply of new letter boxes will arrive in this city about Dec. 31 to take the places of those that are dilapidated or broken. Some time ago Postmaster Crowley sent a requisition to Washington for a number of boxes and they will be placed upon the different streets and corners as soon as they are received.

PLAGUE SPREADS IN ECUADOR

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Nov. 13.—The bubonic plague is spreading. Fifty-two new cases are reported in this city.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The lecture room notes for the two new class rooms in the building to Kirk street next to the Lowell High school have arrived and have been put in place. Thirty-five of these chairs have been placed in each of the two rooms, and the teachers report great convenience and comfort in the carrying on of the various recitations.

The date of meeting of the debating society is Friday, of each week and the meetings are called at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The subject which will be discussed at the next meeting is "Resolved, that the high school should support the school athletics." The affirmative of this question will be upheld by George Wilkins, Walter Wilson and Miss Gordon while the negative will be represented by Miss Choate, Mr. Ecclesstone, and Miss Alcorn.

The interest in these debates is quite high and the attendance at the meetings thus far has been large.

On Saturday the football team of the school will journey to Manchester to meet the high school eleven of that city. Manchester high school is the admitted champion of New Hampshire and a very strong aggregation which will give the local outfit a lively afternoon. Coach Mahoney has been drilling his men into shape for this game and expect his men to make a good showing against the New Hampshire children warriors.

Just One Application And the Hairs Vanish

(Helps to Remove)

Here is a very simple and effective way to banish objectionable hairs or fuzz: Mix into a stiff paste enough powdered detolene and water to cover the undesirable hairs, apply and after about 2 or 3 minutes remove the paste, wash the skin and every trace of hair will have vanished. This method is quite harmless and leaves the skin soft and spotless. Be sure, however, to get the detolene in an original package, otherwise it may not be of the desired strength and purity.

NOMINATIONS BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The president today nominated William J. Campbell to be postmaster at East Taunton, Mass.

Other nominations sent to the senate by the president were:

THE NOON DAY RALLIES

Lively Time at the Factory Gates —Most of the Candidates Were Heard Today

The candidates for city office were out again today in full force at the noon day rallies and all of them were listened to very attentively. Those who gather to hear the campaigners this year seem unusually attentive and not over enthusiastic. Some of the old campaigners have been heard to mention this fact and for the man who has facts and figures to offer a little attention is worth a great deal of cheering.

At the plant of the United States Bunting Co. today, Mayor James E. O'Donnell addressed a gathering of over 400 people. He had an interested and attentive audience and was enthusiastically applauded at the close of his speech.

The mayor told his listeners that he would not descend to slanders and vituperation. He said he regretted that his opponents, who in their desire to secure public office, had cast aspersions upon the people of Lowell and the city of Lowell. They had been doing this for years. He said that he had been elected mayor, promising reforms of various kinds.

Dr. McCarthy
Dr. James J. McCarthy, candidate for mayor, spoke at the gate of the Bigelow Carpet Co. in Market street this morning and his remarks were listened to by a large gathering of men and women. The doctor's address was about the same lines as his previous outdoor speeches, calling for a better government, and pledging to give it if elected.

Dr. McNeill
Dr. Robinson McNeill, candidate for mayor, spoke before a large gathering at the gate of the O'Connell's shoe and hat store. The meeting was not a public rally, but simply a social gathering during which a white tournament was put through. At the conclusion of the card game the doctor was introduced to the gathering and he was given an ovation.

Commissioner Barrett addressed quite a large gathering at the plant of the American Hide & Leather Co. in Perry street. Mr. Barrett reviewed the work of his department for the past two years and said that improvements inaugurated by him were improvements that would last for years. He said he believed in doing things in a big, broad way with an eye to the future. Mr. Barrett was well received.

Alderman Cummings
At the Lamson company in Walker street, Commissioner Lawrence Cummings, candidate for re-election, spoke to a good sized gathering and his words were listened to with interest and attention. He set forth his record as a member of the municipal council as the strongest argument for his re-election to that body, and indulged in no personalities. He pledged himself to carry out the provisions of the charter and serve the best interests of the city and its people.

James F. Miskella
James F. Miskella, candidate for commissioner, spoke to a large gathering of men at the gate of the Saco-Lowell shop in Dutton street at 12:30 o'clock today, and his address was principally on the record of Commissioners Barrett and Cummings.

In reference to Mr. Barrett's record, Mr. Miskella called attention to the statement made some time ago by the commissioner to tear up the side of the Palmer shower bath system, which at that time he said would cost about $12,000, and which Mr. Miskella said experts said would cost between $25,000 and $30,000. The speakers said the proper place for shower baths was in the school buildings.

Ex-Alderman Daly
Ex-Alderman John W. Daly spoke at the Edison Electric company today reviewing his work of three years as alderman under the old system and two in the lower board. He gave his ideas of how the city government should be run and was warmly applauded.

Last Night's Rallyes
There was a big overflow meeting, a sort of union rally, at Old Fellows hall, Centralville, last night. The speakers were Mayor O'Donnell, Commissioners Barrett and Cummings, Charles T. McKenzie, candidate for commissioner, and Richard Spaul, candidate for the school board. The hall was engaged by the mayor. The

THREATENS TO FIRE CLERKS

Commissioner Brown says the finance department, of which he is the head, is a little shy on money and he wants $5000 to tide him over. He had an order all prepared to submit to the municipal council at the special meeting held yesterday afternoon but there was a slip-up somewhere and the council adjourned before the order put in an appearance. The special meeting was called for the purpose of voting to borrow $71,000 to piece the school appropriation for the present year. The order was presented, read and voted on in less than one minute. Then the council adjourned and when Mr. Brown arrived with his order providing that the sum of $5000 be transferred from the general treasury fund to assist him over the rough spots, he found the meeting had adjourned.

This condition of affairs did not please Mr. Brown very well and, on the spur of the moment, he declared that he would lay off a few clerks in the city clerk's office, the treasurer's office and the office of the purchasing agent. Later he changed his mind and declared that he would let matters rest until the regular meeting of the council which will be held Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Mr. Brown said he might ask the mayor to call a special meeting of the council to take action at once. Asked other gentlemen were looking for a place to speak and he invited them to share the platform with him.

Mayor O'Donnell and Commissioners Barrett and Cummings defended the administration of the present government, stating, as they said, in facts and figures. They asked their listeners not to be swayed or influenced by the stories in the street, from the mouths of persons anxious to deceive, or from a biased newspaper, but to go to city hall and get the facts for themselves. The mayor gave a very comprehensive resume of the work accomplished during the last two years and Messrs. Barrett and Cummings spoke especially of their own departments. Mr. McKenzie and Mr. Sykes told of their ideas for the offices subject to them. All of the speakers were well received and the meeting was a very enthusiastic one. There was but one drawback. The hall was too small and men were obliged to stand, not only within the hall, but in the passageway and outside.

C. Y. M. L., tonight, Associate.

EGG DEALERS

Wilfred Blooin pleaded guilty to the same charge.
Judge Pickman asked them if they were ready to go on with their trial this morning and as they were not, he continued the cases until next Wednesday. These are not all the cases which the state officials have on their books and it is probable that several others will be brought to answer a similar complaint on next Wednesday.

A threatening case which brought forth no one but members of the same family was heard when Dionisios pleaded not guilty to threatening his sister.

The threatened sister first took the witness stand. She said that her brother came to the house where she is residing with another brother and told her that he would kill her unless she went to live with him or left the country. The brother with whom she lives substantiated her story as did also her sister. A cousin of theirs was present at the time sister and brother met and he said that he saw defendant strike his sister in the face.

The defendant then told his story in broken English. Judge Pickman found the defendant guilty and ordered him to be placed under $300 bonds to keep the peace.

Only two drunken offenders faced the court from the dock today and their cases were soon disposed of. Phil Neveas was given a suspended sentence to jail and will go there for 3 months if brought before the court again. The case of William Monahan was dismissed as the police are awaiting a capias from the superior court for him. Probable Officer Slattery had five releases on his list today.

Miner's, tonight, at Associate.

KILLED IN WRECK

20 Dead and 250 Injured When Train Fell Through Trestle
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 13.—Twenty persons were killed outright and 250 injured early today when Central of Georgia passenger train number 35 fell through a trestle four miles east of Clayton, Ala.

JUMPED INTO CANAL

years of age. She was a tall woman and wore dark clothes without any hat. Shortly after 10 o'clock Mr. Thaddeus Robitaille, who conducts a grocery store in Tucker street, was on his way to the Moody Bridge garage in Pawtucket street, and when he reached the corner of Moody and Pawtucket streets he saw a strange appearing woman going up Pawtucket street toward the bridge. She stopped, turned around and looked him in the face. She then continued her travels and occasionally turned and stared at Mr. Robitaille. Suddenly she shifted over to the path leading to the canal walk, and when she reached a spot opposite the gates she boldly jumped into the water.

Mr. Robitaille quickly gave the alarm and in a few moments Messrs. James Ruzer, Thaddeus Robitaille and Luther Hall were on the run toward the canal. They saw the woman floating down the canal under the bridge and they continued their run as far as Cheever street, where Mr. Hall without getting rid of his clothing, vaulted the canal fence and jumped into the water. He swam to the woman, caught her around the neck and made several attempts to swim to the canal banks with her. In a few moments Messrs. Ruzer, Robitaille, in order to save his own life, he was quickly pulled to the canal bank and was removed to his home in an exhausted condition.

The woman floated a few yards and then sank to the bottom of the canal. It was stated that if the life preservers had not been there they were placed a few years ago they were placed in the canal. The woman would have been saved. Maurice Powers, mail carrier also attempted to save the woman by throwing a short rope to her, but his efforts were also fruitless. No one seemed to know who the woman was, though it is the general belief that she was of Greek nationality.

Undertaker Joseph Albert was immediately notified of the drowning and with his men he is now grappling the bottom of the canal.

I. N. F. Hibberian hall, Fri. night.

Mr. Willis Hall addressed the members of the Men's club of the Highland Congregational church last night on the fish and game laws of Massachusetts. He explained the spawning of fish, the stocking of ponds in and around Lowell and took up other matters of a like nature. During the evening supper was served and an entertainment furnished.

HANDS KING ALCOHOL BLOW
 Speaker at Anti-Saloon League Urges Declaration Against Liquor

Praises Wilson and Bryan for Banishing
 Wine from Capitol

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—Speaking before the national convention of the Anti-Saloon league today Congressman-elect Daniel McMillin of Tampa, Fla., said:
 "We are going to write here a second declaration of independence renouncing allegiance to King Alcohol, who has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts and destroyed the lives of our people.
 "The people of this country," Mr.
 McMillin said, "rejoiced when Theodore Roosevelt proved beyond doubt that the brewer and distiller had no part in the making of his marvelous manhood. And the cause has been strengthened by the fact that we now have a president who has banished the wine cup from the White House and, God grant it, that it is banished forever."
 The speaker also praised the action of Secretary of State Bryan in discarding alcoholic beverages from diplomatic banquets.
 "But more significant than the attitude of an ex-president, president or a secretary of state," he said, "is the magnificent vote by which congress declared its independence of the liquor lobby and passed the Webb-Kenyon bill. That was the most staggering blow ever given the liquor interests of this country.
 "We have tried to regulate the business but it is as hopeless as the evangelization of the devil.
 "The fight for state wide prohibition is bound to give way sooner or later to the alignment for the broader contest of nation-wide prohibition."

DR. HARTLEY AND MRS. ARNETT CARRIED ON THEIR COURTSHIP
 BY CORRESPONDENCE

BALTIMORE, Nov. 13.—Declaring that he had not seen the face of his bride until after the wedding ceremony had been performed, Dr. Francis W. Hartley admitted yesterday afternoon that he had been married Tuesday evening to Mrs. Marian C.
 Arnett of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed in Franklin Square Baptist church by the pastor, and was witnessed by Allen Hartley, the doctor's son, and a few friends.
 "Mrs. Arnett arrived in this city about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening," said Dr. Hartley. "She wore a thin black veil and went directly to the church.
 When we met in the church she hid her face away from me to prevent my seeing it. When the preacher had finished the ceremony and pronounced us man and wife it was then for the first time that I saw her face."
 Mrs. Hartley was radiant yesterday when seen at her new home on West Fayette street. She beamed on the doctor and declared that he was the best man in the world. She agreed with the statement of her husband that he had not seen her face until after the proposal was conducted by correspondence.
 The bride was a widow and is forty-five years old. Dr. Hartley is fifty-five years old and has been twice married before. Dr. Hartley was married under the name of Hellyer, by which name he was known when he lived in England before coming to this country. Another marriage license was taken out in the name of Hartley, but the ceremony was not performed under that name and the doctor says he is undecided whether he will be mar-

PINDELL TO BE RUSSIAN ENVOY LOST IN STORM FOR ST. COLUMBA'S

Bryan Says President Will Not Allow Misrepresentations

Sen. Lewis Declares that Letter Was Forged by Former Employee

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Henry M.
 Pindell, the Peoria, Ill., publisher, will be nominated for ambassador to Russia, and the recently published correspondence which was alleged to have passed between him and Senator Lewis is not to influence the president's decision. Secretary Bryan issued this statement yesterday:
 "The ambassadorship to Russia is vacant and the president has for some time been desirous of filling it by an appointment which would be entirely worthy of the great dignity and importance of the post. Knowing Mr.
 Pindell personally, his character, his ability, his exceptional fitness for the duties of such a place, he offered him the appointment because he did not seek the appointment. It was tendered him not only without any solicitation on his part but without any knowledge or anticipation on his part that it would be offered him. In response to the offer he frankly stated that he would be glad to serve the administration in any way in which the president thought he could serve it successfully, but that he did not feel that he could conscientiously obligate himself to serve the full ordinary term of a foreign appointment because he did not feel that he could leave his business so long. The president asked him to accept it for as long a time as he could stay, and he consented.
 "This is a full statement of a matter which has been grossly misrepresented. The president will not allow malicious representations to interfere with his right to nominate to the senate the best qualified men within his choice for conspicuous and responsible positions.
 "In making this statement Mr. Bryan declared the Pindell incident dead." Senator Lewis last night issued a statement explaining the much discussed letter from him to Mr. Pindell.
 Asserting that a discharged employee of his Washington office had invented the letter, attempting to give some of the words from the letters which the senator had actually written to the Illinois editor.
 Senator Lewis said that the appointment of Mr. Pindell had been assured.
 It was "but fair for me to state that if the newspapers have published a letter that was ridiculous and unfurforming in so far as it appeared to be either my statement or as coming from me, I am responsible for this and not the papers."
 Concerning the correspondence with Mr. Pindell, Senator Lewis said:
 "The creation of the letters which appear to have been from me to Mr. Pindell, as published, now develops to have been the result of a collusion on the part of a former employee of my office in Washington who had previously forged my name to checks and had been protected by me from the penalty because of his family, and certain of his confederates. They eloped these letters and sought to dispose of the same as being from me to Mr. Pindell, the stenographer having memory that letters of some kind on the subjects referred to had been written by me to Mr. Pindell. However, the language used and the phraseology in the invented letters were so foreign to anything ever used by me that for three weeks throughout the country he had been unsuccessful.

 Later, through co-operation of some enemies of Mr. Pindell (in Illinois, as I am informed), who vouched that such letters had been written by the president of Mr. Pindell or had been spoken of by him as having been received, was this fictitious employable to impose upon reputable newspapers.
 Good music, A. O. H. Fri. night.

ESTRANGED FOR 50 YRS.
BOOTH BROS. ALMOST MET AT CHIcago—ONE ARRIVED FEW HOURS AFTER OTHER LEFT

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Dramwell Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army arrived in Chicago last night just a few hours after his brother, Baillington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America, had left. The brothers have been estranged for 17 years and their friends had hoped they would meet here and effect a reconciliation.
 "I was pleased when I heard my brother was in Chicago," said Dram-well Booth, who will hold conferences in this city with Salvation Army leaders of the west. "A friend told me I might meet him and I did not know he had left. I would be most pleased to meet him again, but I would not seek the reconciliation. If we should become reconciled it would be because we are brothers and would not mean the undoing of our forces."
 Gen. Booth expects to remain in Chicago until Nov. 17, when he will go to New York, where he probably will have an opportunity of meeting his brother.

CHARLTON TRIAL DELAYED
 COMO, Italy, Nov. 13.—Porter Charlton, a young American awaiting trial here on a charge of murdering his wife at Lake Como in 1910, learned yesterday that his trial is not likely to begin before the end of March, 1914.

No Trace of Steamer
John A. McGeen of Cleveland

PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 13.—It was reported here today that the steamer John A. McGeen of Cleveland, one of the largest on the Great Lakes, was lost in the storm of Sunday. The McGeen passed here up-bound early Sunday morning and this was the last heard of her. The bodies of two men were called on the Mc-Geen are reported washed ashore below Sarnia.

DEVOUCES HANGING
MRS. PANKHURST SPOKE BEFORE
SMALL CROWD AT HARTFORD—VENED AT MARRIAGE OFFICE

HARTFORD, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst arrived here yesterday afternoon and after a reception at the Union station was taken to the home of Mrs. Thomas N. Hepburn and later to Farmington where Miss Theodora Pope, the rich suffragist and progressive enthusiast, served tea. Mrs. Pankhurst had not been in town long before she delivered a broadside against the state which has sentenced Mrs. Wakefield, the 31-year-old murderess.
 When she was asked if she would accept the proposal of marriage tendered at long distance by Dr. Henry S.
 Tanner of Los Angeles, who believes he has something in common with the English militant because he claims to be the champion factor of the world, Mrs. Pankhurst, flushed angrily and looked quite militant. She was so annoyed she would not pose for any picture. "That's a most impudent question," she declared. "It's insulting and I won't discuss it. I'm a politician and not a marrying person."
 Since last month, when the matter of attitude toward Mrs. Pankhurst put the state convention of Connecticut suffragists in an uproar, there has been a rift in the association and as a result the number who gathered to receive Mrs. Pankhurst yesterday was small. It was enthusiastic, however, and the younger women swarmed around her until it looked as though they might kiss her little lady aloft and bear her to the automobile that awaited her.
 She dined at Mrs. Hepburn's house last night and tonight will attend a banquet at Parsons theatre. After dining last night she told what she thought about the details of the Wakefield case as explained to her yesterday afternoon.
 "It would be an outrage for men to hang a woman who has no head in the making of the law under which she is tried and sentenced. It sometimes takes a striking instance, such as this concrete example, to make a community realize the injustice of sentencing women who have no hand in the making or enforcing of a law and whose consent has not been asked. It is a crying shame in this supposedly free country, and the remedy, of course, is the vote."

 spatch from Cairo reports.

ST. COLUMBA'S JOINS CATHOLIC CHURCH

THREE ACT COMEDY PRESENTED BY AN ABLE COMPANY OF AMA-TEURS

A three act comedy entitled "The District School at Cranberry Corners" was presented by the members of the Tabernacle society of St. Columba's parish last evening with brilliant success in every way. The scene of the affair was Associate hall and there was present a large number of people, both from St. Columba's parish and from the city in general. The play was a part of the annual entertainment of the society.

Every member of the cast acquitted himself very creditably and among the principals were Dr. Frank McAviney, Charles W. Holmes and Edward J. Mc-Carthy. The scholars were a live crowd and furnished no end of fun. The change from the usual school boddy burlesque of a school committee.
 The cast of characters:
 Much credit is also due Misses Marietta Cassidy and Mary Joyce, under whose direction the comedy was given.
 School committee:
 Uriah Perkins, chairman.
